SALUTE TO 24 GOLDEN YEARS

The Golden Gate Bridge is 24 years old today. The mile-long, orange-hued steel link between Marin County and San Francisco—the bridge critics said could never be built—was first opened to traffic on May 27, 1937. The towers, this one on the Marin side, rise to a majestic 746 feet. The longest single-span bridge in the world, it was begun on Jan. 5, 1933, with the late Joseph B. Strauss as chief engineer, and completed four years later at a cost of 35 million dollars. Since opening, nearly 240 million vehicles have crossed it. (Independent Journal photo by Dick Steinheimer)

Family Flees Novato Blaze

A Novato family of six, eating dinner last night, fled to safety as fire swept through their home, gutting the interior and destroying all furniture and clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laufer and their four children, the oldest 14, got out in time from their home at 1464 Pastel Lane.

The fire started from a deep-fryer on the kitchen stove. Mrs. Laufer was cooking French-fried potatoes and the grease ignited, sending flames through the kitchen. Laufer attempted to put the blaze out with a garden hose but the fire leaped out of control and started racing throughout the house.

Capt. Jack Kidder of Novato Fire Department said Laufer ran across the street to telephone firemen. The Laufer telephone was in the kitchen and could not be reached through the flames.

When firemen arrived—10 regulars and 14 volunteers—"flames were leaping out of most of the windows in the house," Kidder said.

Kidder said all the furniture and clothing in the home was burned. He said the interior of the home was "completely burned." He could give no estimate of the total damage.

The Laufer family spent last night at Laufer's brother-in-law and sister's home at 26 Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Henry May.

Their children are Warren, 14, Cynthia, 8, Charles, 4, and Janet, 3.

The house next door was not touched by fire. It is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Turner, general manager of Radio Station KTIM in San Rafael. Turner and his wife were away at the time of the fire.

A three-acre grass fire threatened another Novato home and gave firemen a hour and a half battle yesterday.

Fourteen regular and 21 volunteer firemen used six pieces of equipment in quelling the smoke belching blaze on a steep hill off Marion Avenue just past Marion School.

Captain Kidder said the blaze threatened the home of Albert Verhonik at 1816 Marion Avenue, the owner of the burned property who lives above the hill.

Kidder said the cause of the blaze is unknown but it started along the road on Marion Avenue. He said the wind blew the flames up the hill and caused excessive smoke.

U.S. Charges Red Infractions In Laos

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States today formally accused the communist Pathet Lao rebels in Laos of breaking the cease-fire there 33 times since a formal truce agreement was signed May 13 by the three warring factions.

The hopelessly deadlocked Geneva Conference itself was in recess and the United States made its charges in a statement circulated to the delegations here. The statement listing the attacks between May 13 and May 26 said many of them "reflect a pattern of premeditation."

The conference was stalled on such problems as whether to debate the opening speeches or whether to proceed immediately with the task of working out Laos' future, and on whether the conference should send new instructions to the international control commission there.

Britain, co-chairman with Russia, went over the head of the Soviet delegation here and appealed directly to the Kremlin. The British appeal was discussed last night in Moscow by British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts and First Deputy Russian Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov.

The United States, which said it would not participate in the conference unless the control commissioner in Laos verified the cease-fire, went along with an ICC report that one had been in existence since May 3. The formal cease-fire was signed on May 13.

Publication of the U.S. report coincided with reports from the battle scene by UPI correspondent Michael T. Malloy who said the Pathet Lao was subjecting Meo tribesmen in the hills of Xieng Khouang province to heavy artillery and infantry attacks.

The U.S. statement, presumably based on reports by American military advisers in Laos, said:

"The reports of these violations came from sources regarded by the United States as highly reliable . . ."

Demos Fete Kennedy At Fund Dinner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy donned the mantle of political party leader today as Democrats from throughout the country rallied here to applaud him two days in advance of his 44th birthday.

His speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising democratic dinner at the national guard armory tonight marks his first outright political appearance since he entered the White House Jan. 20.

About 6,000 party followers were on hand for the affair aimed at replenishing the party's treasury by about $600,000. The Democrats are about two million dollars in the red.

The black-tie dinner was a sell-out. A similar fund raising affair will be held in Boston Monday night which the president will attend. The Boston dinner is expected to net the party another $400,000.

Highlight of tonight's dinner was a two-ton cake in honor of Kennedy. It stood five feet high, five feet wide and seven feet long. The 175 cubic feet of pastry contained 6,000 eggs, 800 pounds of sugar, 800 pounds of frosting, 300 pounds of apricot jam, 1,500 pounds of butter nearly two cases of brandy, several hundred sugar roses, flags, frills and about 100 yards of ribbon.

MISS MARIN 1961

Pam Stettler, 18, a tall, willowy San Rafael High School senior of 123 First Street, was named Miss Marin last night and will go on to try for the Miss California crown in Santa Monica June 20. The blue-eyed queen wants to be a financial secretary, and now has a parttime job at Foster's Freeze. Margo Moulton, 18, Forest Knolls, was named first runner-up and Gail Richardson, 18, of Novato, second runner-up in last night's contest sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, John Robert Powers School, San Rafael, and the Ames Ford Co. where the contest was held.

Jailed Negroes Will Not Touch Any Food

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Six Negroes refused food in their jail cells today while awaiting trial as a result of attempts to integrate a bus depot lunch counter.

A National Guard spokesman for the city under martial rule said the group — including three of the South's most widely known foes of racial separation — had left their meals untouched since lunch yesterday.

Five others arrested with them on breach of the peace charges Thursday posted $1,000 bonds each and caught a plane for home last night.

The spokesman for Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham said he did not know why the six Negroes were fasting.

One of those released, George B. Smith, a Negro student at Yale University, said the others would not eat until one of their leaders was permitted to make a telephone call to his wife.

Subway Cave-In Kills 2 Workers

TORONTO (AP) — A construction cave-in killed two subway workers Friday night, burying them under eight tons of rubble and wet concrete.

It was the first major accident since work started on Toronto's new east-west subway last year.

Bolinas Community Inc. is joining the Marin Civic Affairs Committee in asking for grand jury investigation of the abolition of the County Administrator's office.

Members of the Bolinas Community Inc. voted unanimously last night to send a letter to the Civic Affairs Committee asking for a grand jury probe. The Marin County Board of Supervisors last week suddenly abolished the administrator's office in a 3 to 2 vote.

Arthur E. Carpenter, secretary of Bolinas Community Inc., said the purpose of the group's request for an investigation is to "have a better understanding whether the action was right or not."

Castro 'Tractor Parolees' Flying Back To Cuba Today

COMBINED UPI AND AP

MIAMI—Ten captured Cuban invaders sent here to arrange Premier Fidel Castro's tractors-for-prisoners deal fly back to Cuba today to report success.

The sober-faced young Cubans, who have been on "parole" in this country since last Saturday, expressed confidence that the deal would go through despite mounting U.S. opposition.

They had the personal approval of President John F. Kennedy and the assurances of a private committee that the 20 million dollars needed to ransom Castro's prisoners would be raised.

Members of the "rescue" committee are Eleanor Roosevelt, Milton Eisenhower and Walter Reuther.

Manuel Bay, a former Castro cabinet member turned opposition leader, scheduled a press conference here today at which he was expected to resign from the revolutionary council which sponsored last month's invasion.

At the same time in Havana, three members of the anti-Castro forces that attempted to invade Cuba last month have been condemned to death, Havana radio reported today.

It was the first report of death sentences for any of the captured invaders since the assault on Cuba April 17.

The three—not named—were convicted of having killed Juan Manuel Marquez, one of the early supporters of Prime Minister Fidel Castro who fought with him in the Sierra Maestra, the radio reported.

Eichmann's Dead-Pan Mask Begins To Crack

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann's dead-pan mask is begininng to crack. He looks and acts like a worried man.

The change set in this week when the evidence began to crowd Eichmann for the first time since his trial for mass murder opened six-and-a-half weeks ago.

The difference is there for anyone to see — particularly those who have watched him daily in his little glassed-in box in the Jerusalem courtroom.

The little signs betray that tension that must be building up inside the insignificant-looking, baldish, lantern-jawed man with horn-rimmed glasses.

You see it in the tensing of his jaw muscles, the tightening of his thin lips and the voluntary nervous flicker of his eyes and tapping of his fingers when some particularly damaging piece of testimony is related to the court.

He has a curious reflex habit of twisting his mouth to one side to cover up what he's thinking.

During the first few weeks of the trial Eichmann tried to give the impression that he was unmoved, even bored by the testimony of the procession of witnesses called by the Israeli prosecution. As they testified, he would sit back in his chair, his head cocked half-upwards and to one side, and would seem to lose himself in his own thoughts.

The evidence this week shook him out of this pose of bored nonchalance.

Will Rogers Jr. Resigns State Parks Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has accepted the resignation of Will Rogers Jr. of Beverly Hills from the State Park Commission.

The governor named John P. Elsbach, Los Angeles real estate man and a Republican, to succeed the former Democratic congressman and son of the late humorist.

Rogers told Brown that recently acquired resort property in Tubac, Ariz., will not permit him to devote the necessary time to the park commission.

Brown commended Rogers for "able service to the people of California."

Elsbach, a founder of Hunt's Foods, was a developer of Lido Isle at Newport. He operates La Quinta Country Club and Country Club Estates at Palm Springs.

HAPPY ASTRONAUT—Jerri Cobb, the nation's first lady astronaut, beamed yesterday at the national space conference being held in Tulsa, Okla., after she was given a citation declaring her "Astronaut of Oklahoma." Republican, Demo In Texas Runoff Election For Senate

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texans elect a senator today with a possibility of choosing the first Republican to that office from this state since Reconstruction days.

The candidates are William A. Blakley and John G. Tower, both staunch conservatives. Tower, the Republican, led the first primary, and this was quite something for Texas.

Blakely is a Democrat, although he supported Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has been interim senator by appointment twice, currently after Lyndon B. Johnson resigned to become vice president. He has vast business interests and his weath is calculated in millions.

Tower is a Republican who resigned as government professor at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, to oppose Johnson for the Senate last fall. Johnson won both the Senate seat and the vice-presidency.

Blakley and Tower reached the runoff when they ran one-two April 4 in a field of 71. There were no party primaries.

Tower led April 4 by a vote of 327,308 to 190,818 for Blakley. Tower was the only major Republican, but Blakley bucked against four other major Democrats.

Some politicians believe Blakley will win handily today in this predominately Democratic state. Others say he has a huge vote gap to overcome.

Final College Exams

More than 900 day students will take their final examinations in 150 subjects between June 6 and 16 at the College of Marin, said Paul M. Clymer, dean of instruction. Adult school finals will be between June 5 and 9.

State Senate Holding 1st Saturday Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's legislature holds its first Saturday meeting of the 1961 session today, under twin pressures of fast approaching deadlines and a mountain of pending bills.

The Senate, which has less than a week before it must turn exclusively to Assembly bills, meets to clear some of its crowded calendar. The Assembly, under a bit less pressure, was in recess but on notice it probably would start a six-day week Monday.

Although the legislature probably is no farther behind than normally, Assembly Speaker Ralph Brown (D-Modesto) warned there may be night meetings in his house unless there is less talk and more voting.

In order to prevent a last minute legislative flood of unmanageable proportions, the Senate must finish off its own bills by June 1 and then begin on Assembly measures.

Because there are fewer Senate bills than Assembly, the lower house will not shut off action on its own measures until June 6. The session ends June 16.

Drake High Holds Spring Concert

The Sir Francis Drake symphonic band and a cappella choir gave their annual spring concert yesterday for the Drake student body.

The band played "Peanuts," "Song for a Trombone," with trombone solo by Arnie Weaver, "Cuban Holiday," and "Parade of the Charioteers." The band was conducted by Perry Smith.

The a cappella choir entertained the students with selection from "The Sound of Music," "Lacrymosa," and "Mama-Chu."

The octet of "Mama-Chu was Kitchie Greiner, Lynda Marks, Beverly Montooth, Pauline Dallara, Ralph Pepe, Scott Moriarity, Dave Oliva, and Ten Munkres. The choir was under direction of Scott Merrick.

U.S. Funds Going To Marin Schools

U.S. Treasury checks totaling $20,886 are being sent by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to three Marin County school districts, Congressman Clement W. Miller (D Corte Madera) announced yesterday.

Larkspur School District will receive $12,329, San Anselmo School District $5,149 and Fairfax School District $3,408, first payments on this year's estimated total federal aid of $27,850 to the three districts.

Further payments will be made when actual attendance figures and final operating costs are definitely known, Miller said.

Her auto, southbound on Grand Avenue, was struck by a car driven by Waldemar T. Berner of 419 Irwin Street, San Rafael, westbound on Fourth Street. Mrs. Meyers refused medical attention. Berner was cited by San Rafael police for driving without due caution.

MARRIAGE PLANS REVEALED

It was disclosed in Washington, D. C., yesterday that Mrs. Jean McCarthy, widow of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, and G. Joseph Minetti, 53, a widower, plan to marry. Mrs. McCarthy, 36, has been a widow since 1957. Minetti, a Brooklyn, N. Y., lawyer, is a member of the Civil Aeronautics. He is a Democrat. (AP Wirephoto)

Eichmann's Dead-Pan Mask Begins To Crack

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann's dead-pan mask is begininng to crack. He looks and acts like a worried man.

The change set in this week when the evidence began to crowd Eichmann for the first time since his trial for mass murder opened six-and-a-half weeks ago.

The difference is there for anyone to see — particularly those who have watched him daily in his little glassed-in box in the Jerusalem courtroom.

The little signs betray that tension that must be building up inside the insignificant-looking, baldish, lantern-jawed man with horn-rimmed glasses.

You see it in the tensing of his jaw muscles, the tightening of his thin lips and the voluntary nervous flicker of his eyes and tapping of his fingers when some particularly damaging piece of testimony is related to the court.

He has a curious reflex habit of twisting his mouth to one side to cover up what he's thinking.

During the first few weeks of the trial Eichmann tried to give the impression that he was unmoved, even bored by the testimony of the procession of witnesses called by the Israeli prosecution. As they testified, he would sit back in his chair, his head cocked half-upwards and to one side, and would seem to lose himself in his own thoughts.

The evidence this week shook him out of this pose of bored nonchalance.

State Senate Holding 1st Saturday Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's legislature holds its first Saturday meeting of the 1961 session today, under twin pressures of fast approaching deadlines and a mountain of pending bills.

The Senate, which has less than a week before it must turn exclusively to Assembly bills, meets to clear some of its crowded calendar. The Assembly, under a bit less pressure, was in recess but on notice it probably would start a six-day week Monday.

Although the legislature probably is no farther behind than normally, Assembly Speaker Ralph Brown (D-Modesto) warned there may be night meetings in his house unless there is less talk and more voting.

In order to prevent a last minute legislative flood of unmanageable proportions, the Senate must finish off its own bills by June 1 and then begin on Assembly measures.

Because there are fewer Senate bills than Assembly, the lower house will not shut off action on its own measures until June 6. The session ends June 16.

Drake High Holds Spring Concert

The Sir Francis Drake symphonic band and a cappella choir gave their annual spring concert yesterday for the Drake student body.

The band played "Peanuts," "Song for a Trombone," with trombone solo by Arnie Weaver, "Cuban Holiday," and "Parade of the Charioteers." The band was conducted by Perry Smith.

U.S. Funds Going To Marin Schools

U.S. Treasury checks totaling $20,886 are being sent by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to three Marin County school districts, Congressman Clement W. Miller (D Corte Madera) announced yesterday.

Larkspur School District will receive $12,329, San Anselmo School District $5,149 and Fairfax School District $3,408, first payments on this year's estimated total federal aid of $27,850 to the three districts.

Further payments will be made when actual attendance figures and final operating costs are definitely known, Miller said.

Will Rogers Jr. Resigns State Parks Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has accepted the resignation of Will Rogers Jr. of Beverly Hills from the State Park Commission.

The governor named John P. Elsbach, Los Angeles real estate man and a Republican, to succeed the former Democratic congressman and son of the late humorist.

Rogers told Brown that recently acquired resort property in Tubac, Ariz., will not permit him to devote the necessary time to the park commission.

Brown commended Rogers for "able service to the people of California."

Elsbach, a founder of Hunt's Foods, was a developer of Lido Isle at Newport. He operates La Quinta Country Club and Country Club Estates at Palm Springs.

HAPPY ASTRONAUT—Jerri Cobb, the nation's first lady astronaut, beamed yesterday at the national space conference being held in Tulsa, Okla., after she was given a citation declaring her "Astronaut of Oklahoma." The 30-year-old Ponca, Okla., pilot, who has passed physical and psychological tests which so-far qualify her for space flight, was also named as consultant to NASA. (AP Wirephoto)

Republican, Demo In Texas Runoff Election For Senate

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texans elect a senator today with a possibility of choosing the first Republican to that office from this state since Reconstruction days.

The candidates are William A. Blakley and John G. Tower, both staunch conservatives. Tower, the Republican, led the first primary, and this was quite something for Texas.

Blakely is a Democrat, although he supported Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has been interim senator by appointment twice, currently after Lyndon B. Johnson resigned to become vice president. He has vast business interests and his weath is calculated in millions.

Tower is a Republican who resigned as government professor at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, to oppose Johnson for the Senate last fall. Johnson won both the Senate seat and the vice-presidency.

Blakley and Tower reached the runoff when they ran one-two April 4 in a field of 71. There were no party primaries.

Tower led April 4 by a vote of 327,308 to 190,818 for Blakley. Tower was the only major Republican, but Blakley bucked against four other major Democrats.

Some politicians believe Blakley will win handily today in this predominately Democratic state. Others say he has a huge vote gap to overcome.

Final College Exams

More than 900 day students will take their final examinations in 150 subjects between June 6 and 16 at the College of Marin, said Paul M. Clymer, dean of instruction. Adult school finals will be between June 5 and 9.

VYING FOR QUEEN'S CROWN

Marin Couple Celebrating 50 Years Wed

Robert Anderton met his future wife when he was selling bread door to door in Canada. Today they will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Anderton, an Englishman, came to Canada when he was 16. "He was always one who went looking for work; he didn't sit and let it come to him," Mrs. Anderton recalls.

One of his jobs was selling bread in Montreal. The couple later were married in Vancouver, B.C., and came to the United States "to get away from all that rain."

They lived in San Francisco for 27 years and in Marin for 15 years, first near Lagunitas and for the past five years in Novato. Now residing at 1101 Second Street, their formula for 50 years of marriage has been "play it 50-50, give and take."

Though the anniversary was yesterday, the couple will have an "open house" tomorrow afternoon at the home of their daughter Mrs. Charles Graff, 10 Marion Court, Novato. Guests may include their son Arthur, Santa Rosa and Fred from Los Angeles. They'll conclude the anniversary celebration with a dinner at Cloud 5 restaurant.

San Clemente School Given Use Permit

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Thursday night gave a conditional use permit for the San Clemente School to the Larkspur School Board.

The school board must have a landscape plan approved before the certificate of occupancy will be issued, however, the planners decided.

The commission set for 1:30 p.m. June 12 a public heaing on the proposal of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. to make plantings along Paradise Drive.

Signs at the entrance to Sea Wolf Passage and Prince Royal Passage were approved by the commission. These signs had been requested by the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

A free-standing sign was approved for the Embee Market at 5651 Paradise Drive under the condition that the board of design approve the sign.

The planners recommended that the city council name a short unnamed street Conow Street in honor of Mrs. Charlotte Conow, former resident of the street who was active in youth work.

The board granted Walter and Chloe Dillworth permission to build a duplex at Serra Avenue and Willow Street.

San Quentin Unit Elects Officers

Newly elected officers of San Quentin chapter of the California State Employees Assn. were installed at 7:30 p.m. last night in Green Mill Inn, just north of Petaluma.

They are Gunther E. Schmid, president; Harry Hertzog, vice president; Harriette Hertzog, secretary; Marjorie Mecabe, treasurer; and general delegates, Joe R. O'Brien, Max Brice, Dean Glazier, and Chester Zablocki.

The officers were installed by Homer F. Crowell, director of the Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties' region IV.

Cheese Plant In Tomales Will Close

New Sonoma Creamery Co. of San Francisco, owners of the Tomales cheese factory, has announced closing of the plant effective June 1.

The factory has been in operation since 1923 and is best known for Tomales Bay cheese, a Monterey type. It also produces cheddar, parmesan and others. An average of 30,000 pounds of milk per day is processed throughout the year.

Seven men have been regularly employed with additional help hired during peak periods. The closing of the factory will result in a $40,000 payroll loss to Tomales.

There are no plans at present to move any of the equipment or dispose of the buildings. The company has not made any definite statement as to whether the plant may resume operations at some future date. A few Tomales dairymen have made arrangements to ship to the Sonoma plant of the company. Others are seeking other outlets.

Performing Arts Tickets On Sale

Tickets are now on sale for Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts set for June 2, 3 and 4 in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael, according to Mrs. Norman Beals, ticket chairman.

They may be bought at the Mart, Sausalito; Redwood Book Store and Dick Ford Studio, Mill Valley; Golden Hind Book Store and Hoy's Music Store, San Anselmo; Miracle Music, Cottage Book Store and Hoy's Music Store, San Rafael, and B. & G. Music Store, Terra Linda.

A limited number of tickets will be available at the door on the days of performances, Mrs. Beals said.

Neil Farr Passes Bar

Neil Farr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Farr of 29 Summer Avenue, Fairfax, has passed the California Bar Examination. Farr, now residing in Napa with his wife, Lorna, and two children, attended Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. He is a graduate of Hastings College of Law in San Francisco.

Psychologist For Kentfield School Quits

William Berzman has resigned as psychologist and guidance consultant for Kentfield School District to accompany his boss, Supt. Harold R. De Pue, to Oxnard School District in Ventura County.

Berzman will be director of personnel for the Oxnard district, of which DePue becomes superintendent on July 1. His salary there will be $10,300 per year, or $300 above that he received in Kentfield.

Berzman, 35, joined the Marin County Probation Department immediately after receiving the master's degree in psychology from University of Southern California. After two years, he joined the county schools office as psychologist. He has been with the Kentfield District two years and psychologist for the DeWitt Reading Clinic in San Rafael since its opening.

Besides his school work, Berzman has had a private practice as consulting psychologist.

He has served the YMCA board as member and consultant, is on the board of the Marin Council of Community Services, is vice president and program chairman of the Mental Health Society, is a charter member of the Marin County Psychologists Assn. During the two-year existence of the Council for the Prevention of Crime and Delinquency, Berzman acted as vice chairman. He is a past president and vice president of the Bernard Hoffman Parent-Teacher Assn. in Terra Linda.

Berzman's school experience has included four years' screening and selecting teaching and administrative personnel for both county and the Kentfield District. He also served briefly as manager in charge of ships' service personnel at the Naval Air Station, Alameda.

A native of Carson City, Nev., Berzman attended schools there and in Alameda. He was in the Navy's V-5 pilot training program during World War II, ending the war at St. Mary's Pre-Flight College.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a 7-year-old son and 5-year-old daughter.

Senior Citizens Back Housing

The Marin Senior Assn. has unanimously endorsed the referendum on the June 27 ballot authorizing the Marin County Housing Authority to develop 300 low-rent apartments with special preference for the elderly, association secretary Margaret Shinn announced yesterday.

The proposal calls for construction of 300 apartments with special features for senior citizens such as ground level units, wide doors for wheel chairs, non-skid floors, gardens, emergency alarm systems and community recreation space.

BAPTISTS LAUD KENNEDY ON SCHOOL STAND

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The Southern Baptist convention has reaffirmed its position against federal aid to denominational schools.

The convention, which last year warned against electing a Roman Catholic to office, commended President John F. Kennedy for his stand on disallowing federal aid to parochial schools.

They praised Kennedy for his "insistence that the constitution of the United States be followed in the matter of not giving federal aid to church schools."

In other convention action, a proposal was approved that Southern Baptists seminaries be requested to accept, publicly and openly, qualified students of any race.

A native of San Rafael who operates a photographic studio in San Francisco, wants to get permission to take photos of visitors on the VistaPoint at the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Ennio H. Martinelli wrote the bridge board yesterday that he would to maintain a small enclosure on the Vista Point in which to house his cameras, film equipment, as well as sell film and other photo accessories to visitors.

The bridge directors took no action on his request, pointing out that they do not own or operate Vista Point. It is the property of the Army and was prepared and is to be landscaped by the State Division of Highways.

Closer Ties Urged Between Public, Voluntary Groups

"A more perfect union of public and voluntary forces" was urged by David F. DeMarche of Tiburon, United Fund social planning director, at the annual meeting of the Marin Council of Community Services.

DeMarche, speaking at the Thursday dinner meeting at Bob's in Marin, declared:

"We have the machinery, and to some extent the funds and the staff for an effective coordinating and planning operation. It is up to us to make this machinery work, to bring about a more perfect union of the public and voluntary forces for a statesmanlike approach to community health and welfare problems."

DeMarche said a community welfare council has the important job of serving as medium through which some agencies will be subordinated to others in the public good.

Mrs. George Alpers, president of the council, presided.

Industrial Accident Group Moving

Beginning next Thursday, all Marin County hearings for industrial accidents will be held in Larkspur at Redwood High School's trustee room instead of the San Rafael City Hall, Elton C. Lawless, chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission announced yesterday.

Creation of a new municipal court in San Rafael has caused a lack of hearing facilities in that city, Lawless said.

The hearings for Marin County will be under the jurisdiction of the San Francisco office. They are now under the jurisdiction of Santa Rosa.

VYING FOR QUEEN'S CROWN

Marin Couple Celebrating 50 Years Wed

Robert Anderton met his future wife when he was selling bread door to door in Canada. Today they will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Anderton, an Englishman, came to Canada when he was 16. "He was always one who went looking for work; he didn't sit and let it come to him," Mrs. Anderton recalls.

One of his jobs was selling bread in Montreal. The couple later were married in Vancouver, B.C., and came to the United States "to get away from all that rain."

They lived in San Francisco for 27 years and in Marin for 15 years, first near Lagunitas and for the past five years in Novato. Now residing at 1101 Second Street, their formula for 50 years of marriage has been "play it 50-50, give and take."

Though the anniversary was yesterday, the couple will have an "open house" tomorrow afternoon at the home of their daughter Mrs. Charles Graff, 10 Marion Court, Novato. Guests may include their son Arthur, Santa Rosa and Fred from Los Angeles. They'll conclude the anniversary celebration with a dinner at Cloud 5 restaurant.

San Clemente School Given Use Permit

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Thursday night gave a conditional use permit for the San Clemente School to the Larkspur School Board.

The school board must have a landscape plan approved before the certificate of occupancy will be issued, however, the planners decided.

The commission set for 1:30 p.m. June 12 a public heaing on the proposal of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. to make plantings along Paradise Drive.

Signs at the entrance to Sea Wolf Passage and Prince Royal Passage were approved by the commission. These signs had been requested by the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

A free-standing sign was approved for the Embee Market at 5651 Paradise Drive under the condition that the board of design approve the sign.

The planners recommended that the city council name a short unnamed street Conow Street in honor of Mrs. Charlotte Conow, former resident of the street who was active in youth work.

The board granted Walter and Chloe Dillworth permission to build a duplex at Serra Avenue and Willow Street.

San Quentin Unit Elects Officers

They are Gunther E. Schmid, president; Harry Hertzog, vice president; Harriette Hertzog, secretary; Marjorie Mecabe, treasurer; and general delegates, Joe R. O'Brien, Max Brice, Dean Glazier, and Chester Zablocki.

The officers were installed by Homer F. Crowell, director of the Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties' region IV.

Cheese Plant In Tomales Will Close

New Sonoma Creamery Co. of San Francisco, owners of the Tomales cheese factory, has announced closing of the plant effective June 1.

The factory has been in operation since 1923 and is best known for Tomales Bay cheese, a Monterey type. It also produces cheddar, parmesan and others. An average of 30,000 pounds of milk per day is processed throughout the year.

Seven men have been regularly employed with additional help hired during peak periods. The closing of the factory will result in a $40,000 payroll loss to Tomales.

There are no plans at present to move any of the equipment or dispose of the buildings. The company has not made any definite statement as to whether the plant may resume operations at some future date. A few Tomales dairymen have made arrangements to ship to the Sonoma plant of the company. Others are seeking other outlets.

Teacher Shouldn't Be Wisecracker; Sarcasm Could Hurt Child Badly

I'm writing to teachers today. Please friends, don't be sarcastic with your pupils. Don't ridicule any child in your classes, because sarcasm hurts too much.

Here are some examples:

Suzy is not bright, but she tries hard. One of her teachers delights in embarrassing her. He smirks and then sings a line or two from the song, "Wake Up Little Suzy." The kids go into stitches. Last week Suzy played hookey. Is it any wonder?

"Bill" is a very slow-moving but bright boy. He thinks things through carefully before he opens his mouth. His teacher assumed he was dumb. I told her Bill was gifted. The next day she announced to the class, "I'm glad to say that our slow friend, Bill, is not as stupid as he seems. Appearances are deceiving, aren't they?" Imagine how Bill felt.

"Johnny" is 14 and in junior high school. He was the smallest boy in his grade. The other kids shot up, but he didn't. He is sensitive about it.

A few weeks ago Johnny's family moved and he entered a new school. One new teacher commented, "I'm going to call you Junior, you aren't big enough to be anything else." Another said, "I hope you have more sense than the last runt I taught." A third teacher said, "Little man, stop standing in a hole."

Johnny took off. He refuses to return to that school. Do you blame him?

Sarcasm is easy. Your wisecracks get laughs. You can feel like the wittiest entertainer this side of Las Vegas without half trying. The price is too great, however.

You hurt the children you are supposed to help and you prevent learning. You become a menace. No sarcasm, please!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "At a P-TA convention we were told of a study which proved there was no relationship between the number of hours spent watching TV and the grades students got. Does that seem right to you?"

(A) No. It doesn't. My own studies indicate that high school students' grades go down as TV watching goes up. There is a close relationship.

Highway 101 To Close At Marinwood

Highway 101 traffic will be be disrupted at Marinwood on Wednesday night next week, May 31, to permit work on the Miller Creek Road overcrossing, the state Division of Highways announced today.

Between 9 p.m. and 5 p.m., traffic is lightest, the freeway lanes will be closed, first in one direction and then the other, assistant state highway engineer J. P. Sinclair said. Traffic will be restricted to one lane in each direction on the unclosed side of the freeway.

"Warning and directional signs will be in place, and extreme caution should be exercised by motorists traveling through the construction area," Sinclair warned.

It may also be necessary to close Miller Creek Road between Highway 101 and Marinwood Drive for short periods during the day on Wednesday to perform utility relocation work. Sinclair suggests that when possible, traffic normally using Miller Creek Road use the Lucas Valley Road to avoid the construction area.

Work consists of erecting pre-stressed bridge girders over Highway 101 for the Miller Crek Road overcrossing.

The gallery, at 60 Corte Madera Avenue, is open from 6 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, and from noon to 7:30 p.m., Sunday.

Marinwood Man Jailed On Two Beating Counts

A Marinwood man who admitted slapping his wife and throwing a coffee cup at her was jailed on two counts of wife beating last night.

Del Mar Thoman, 33, of 555 Cedarberry Lane, was released on $2,625 bail and will be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Carol Jenine Thomen, 30, a mother of four, and expecting her fifth child, had called for help from sheriff's deputies twice Thursday, claiming her husband had hit her and she feared for her life. Deputies launched a search for Thomen, who was believed armed with a rifle.

They found Thomen yesterday at his home. He told them he had calmed down, and his arrest would serve no purpose. The rifle was in a closet, he said.

Thoman told deputies he had struck his wife with an open hand and threw the cup at her after overhearing a telephone conversation between her and another man.

Bartender Sues Fellow Employee

A San Rafael bartender, who says he was attacked and beaten up at the Old Fashioned by another employee last month, filed a $45,000 damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Ernest M. Conner, bartender and night manager at the Old Fashioned at 1105 Fourth Street, San Rafael, said the attack occurred about 1:30 a.m. on April 21. He names Bruce Thompson, another employee, as the attacker. Conner is suing Thompson and Wayne and Nadine Brooks, who operate the bar.

Conner contends he was so severely beaten about the face that the left side of his face is paralyzed. He seeks $20,000 general damages, $25,000 punitive damages, and medical and court costs.

A 3-year-old Tiburon boy suffered cuts and scrapes yesterday when the family car rolled down a driveway at his home, striking the child in the street.

David Hoffmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hoffmire Jr. of 583 Virginia Drive, was reported in "fair to good" condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Hoffmire had parked the car in the driveway. The brakes slipped, and the car rolled away, down the driveway, around a curve, and, after hitting the boy, struck a fence at 582 Virginia Avenue, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Resurfacing will be done on State Sign Route 12-37 between Sonoma Creek and Burndale; sections of State Sign Route 1 between south of Olema and Marshall; and on State Highway Route 104 between Lakeview Road and Sign Route 12-37 at Bonneau Road. Sausalito Schooner Gets A Ticket From Coast Guard

The Coast Guard yesterday cited the owner of the Sausalito-based schooner "Wanderer" for violation of maritime regulations, forcing cancellation of scheduled Bay cruises this weekend.

Formerly owned by actor Sterling Hayden, the two-masted vessel is now owned by Joe Price of Bartlesville, Okla. Hayden, who set up the cruises, was donating his services as skipper.

The Coast Guard said the vessel was not inspected or licensed for carrying passengers for hire, and so was in violation of regulations. The "Wanderer" has been making week-end cruises with paying passengers.

Two cruises were scheduled this weekend to raise funds for KQED, a San Francisco non-profit educational television station.

Teacher Shouldn't Be Wisecracker; Sarcasm Could Hurt Child Badly

I'm writing to teachers today. Please friends, don't be sarcastic with your pupils. Don't ridicule any child in your classes, because sarcasm hurts too much.

Here are some examples:

Suzy is not bright, but she tries hard. One of her teachers delights in embarrassing her. He smirks and then sings a line or two from the song, "Wake Up Little Suzy." The kids go into stitches. Last week Suzy played hookey. Is it any wonder?

"Bill" is a very slow-moving but bright boy. He thinks things through carefully before he opens his mouth. His teacher assumed he was dumb. I told her Bill was gifted. The next day she announced to the class, "I'm glad to say that our slow friend, Bill, is not as stupid as he seems. Appearances are deceiving, aren't they?" Imagine how Bill felt.

"Johnny" is 14 and in junior high school. He was the smallest boy in his grade. The other kids shot up, but he didn't. He is sensitive about it.

A few weeks ago Johnny's family moved and he entered a new school. One new teacher commented, "I'm going to call you Junior, you aren't big enough to be anything else." Another said, "I hope you have more sense than the last runt I taught." A third teacher said, "Little man, stop standing in a hole."

Johnny took off. He refuses to return to that school. Do you blame him?

Sarcasm is easy. Your wisecracks get laughs. You can feel like the wittiest entertainer this side of Las Vegas without half trying. The price is too great, however.

You hurt the children you are supposed to help and you prevent learning. You become a menace. No sarcasm, please!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "At a P-TA convention we were told of a study which proved there was no relationship between the number of hours spent watching TV and the grades students got. Does that seem right to you?"

(A) No. It doesn't. My own studies indicate that high school students' grades go down as TV watching goes up. There is a close relationship.

Highway 101 To Close At Marinwood

Highway 101 traffic will be be disrupted at Marinwood on Wednesday night next week, May 31, to permit work on the Miller Creek Road overcrossing, the state Division of Highways announced today.

Between 9 p.m. and 5 p.m., traffic is lightest, the freeway lanes will be closed, first in one direction and then the other, assistant state highway engineer J. P. Sinclair said. Traffic will be restricted to one lane in each direction on the unclosed side of the freeway.

"Warning and directional signs will be in place, and extreme caution should be exercised by motorists traveling through the construction area," Sinclair warned.

It may also be necessary to close Miller Creek Road between Highway 101 and Marinwood Drive for short periods during the day on Wednesday to perform utility relocation work. Sinclair suggests that when possible, traffic normally using Miller Creek Road use the Lucas Valley Road to avoid the construction area.

Work consists of erecting pre-stressed bridge girders over Highway 101 for the Miller Crek Road overcrossing.

The gallery, at 60 Corte Madera Avenue, is open from 6 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, and from noon to 7:30 p.m., Sunday.

Marinwood Man Jailed On Two Beating Counts

A Marinwood man who admitted slapping his wife and throwing a coffee cup at her was jailed on two counts of wife beating last night.

Del Mar Thoman, 33, of 555 Cedarberry Lane, was released on $2,625 bail and will be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Carol Jenine Thomen, 30, a mother of four, and expecting her fifth child, had called for help from sheriff's deputies twice Thursday, claiming her husband had hit her and she feared for her life. Deputies launched a search for Thomen, who was believed armed with a rifle.

They found Thomen yesterday at his home. He told them he had calmed down, and his arrest would serve no purpose. The rifle was in a closet, he said.

Thoman told deputies he had struck his wife with an open hand and threw the cup at her after overhearing a telephone conversation between her and another man.

A San Rafael bartender, who says he was attacked and beaten up at the Old Fashioned by another employee last month, filed a $45,000 damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Ernest M. Conner, bartender and night manager at the Old Fashioned at 1105 Fourth Street, San Rafael, said the attack occurred about 1:30 a.m. on April 21. He names Bruce Thompson, another employee, as the attacker. Conner is suing Thompson and Wayne and Nadine Brooks, who operate the bar.

Conner contends he was so severely beaten about the face that the left side of his face is paralyzed. He seeks $20,000 general damages, $25,000 punitive damages, and medical and court costs.

A 3-year-old Tiburon boy suffered cuts and scrapes yesterday when the family car rolled down a driveway at his home, striking the child in the street.

David Hoffmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hoffmire Jr. of 583 Virginia Drive, was reported in "fair to good" condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Hoffmire had parked the car in the driveway. The brakes slipped, and the car rolled away, down the driveway, around a curve, and, after hitting the boy, struck a fence at 582 Virginia Avenue, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Sausalito Schooner Gets A Ticket From Coast Guard

The Coast Guard yesterday cited the owner of the Sausalito-based schooner "Wanderer" for violation of maritime regulations, forcing cancellation of scheduled Bay cruises this weekend.

Formerly owned by actor Sterling Hayden, the two-masted vessel is now owned by Joe Price of Bartlesville, Okla. Hayden, who set up the cruises, was donating his services as skipper.

The Coast Guard said the vessel was not inspected or licensed for carrying passengers for hire, and so was in violation of regulations. The "Wanderer" has been making week-end cruises with paying passengers.

Two cruises were scheduled this weekend to raise funds for KQED, a San Francisco nonprofit educational television station.

Joan, with her husband Kanan Ali and their year-old son, Kevin Leigth, will leave on June 21 to make her home in Baghdad. The family will visit Copenhagen and The Netherlands en route to Stuttgart, Germany where they will buy a car. They will then drive to Greece, ship the car on to Baghdad and fly to their new home.

Kanan is a graduate of the University of Switzerland and has been doing graduate work at the University of California. The Alis' son has a dual name. Here in his mother's country he is known as Kevin but he will be called Leigth in his father's native land.

The Dias' other daughter is married to Carlos Roldan of Peru. In June they will both graduate from U.C. where she majored in Spanish and he in architecture.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Roldan, who have been traveling in Europe, will arrive in time for graduation and then leave for the Far East. As a graduation present they are giving their son and daughter-in-law a trip to Hawaii.

Following summer session at the university Carlos and Jan will move to Lima, Peru to make their home.

San Rafael, Tam, Drake Dominate All-Marin Baseball

Co-champions San Rafael and Tamalpais and runner-up Drake each placed four men on the 14-player 1961 All-Marin County Athletic League baseball squad that was selected this week by the league's coaches.

Two third basemen, two left fielders, two catchers and three pitchers were selected because of ties in the balloting.

San Rafael's All-Leaguers were junior pitching ace Jack Sovereign, second baseman Rich Curry, left fielder Billy Roberts and third baseman Tom Williams.

From Tam, the honorees were first baseman Russ Adams, third baseman Norm Kreuter, left fielder Dave Perlis and centerfielder Ed "Chip" Collins.

Drake's honored players include batting champion Mike Bresnan as catcher, shortstop Jerry Ard, right fielder Vince Pallavicini and pitcher Nino Geminiani.

Lu Haas of Novato as a catcher and Rich Brear of Redwood, a pitcher, were the only players from the second division to make the lineup.

Eight of the All-Leaguers were among the league's top 12 batters hitting over .300.

Bresnan led the pack with a torrid .452 clip on 14 hits in 31 at bats, including two triples.

Pallavicini won his All-League rating on the strength of 11 runs batted in and a .344 batting average.

Also for Drake, shortstop Ard packed a strong bat with an average of .371 and nine runs batted in and pitcher Geminiani turned in the most complete games of any hurler in the circuit, five.

Novato's Lu Haas with a .320 average and three home runs, tops in the league, was the long ball specialist on the All-League squad. Five of his hits went for extra bases.

Adams of Tam served double duty as first sacker and pitcher for the co-champions and his runner-up batting average of .424, including six extra base hits, lifted him onto the honor lineup. The other Tam All-Leaguers, Perlis, Collins, and Kreuter, were defensive gems with a batting punch to boot. Perlis hit well in the clutch, although he was below.300 on the season, and he also contributed a valuable pitching victory to relieve a tired starting staff. Collins, who set a record of 15 runs scored on the season, also posted a healthy .382 average at the plate. Kreuter hit below .300, but his all-around outstanding performance was a key factor in Tam's championship.

San Rafael's All-League players were headline makers all season. Sovereign was the league's best pitcher with a 6-1 record which included the first no-hit, no-run performance (against Drake) in the young league's history. He also led the circuit in strikeouts with 56.

Third sacker Williams won the league's RBI title with 12; Curry and Roberts each batted .303 on the year.

Redwood's Rich Brear was runner-up to Sovereign in the strikeout department with 52, but his record for a losing team was only one win and five losses.

Hamilton Defeats San Rafael Stars

Some 300 baseball fans last night not only contributed to the San Rafael Pony Baseball League's financial needs, but watched a rip roaring ball game as the Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders pushed over the San Rafael All Stars, nine runs to seven at Albert Field.

For the first four innings it was a stalemate under the influential arms of The Defender's winning pitcher and All-Star Jerry DeRosa.

But in the bottom of the fourth Hamilton scored and then chalked up another run in the fifth frame. By this time relief hurler Fred Thurman was on the mound and held the Defenders to one more run before an All-Star rally in the seventh.

It was second baseman Rich Curry of the San Rafael High champs who started the All-Star spurt. He was the leading batter of the night with three hits. The College of Marin's valuable shortstop Ron Blum got the biggest crack of the night at the Defenders when in that sizzling seventh he smacked a gorgeous double to score two runs and ram the All-Stars ahead sixth to three.

In that same inning relief pitcher Thurman was able to get aboard and went clear to third on a Defender error. Fairly pooped by that time, Thurman had to start again for home when the Defenders made an additional error on the subsequent play. It was all Thurman could do to stagger to the dish, and needless to say it wasn't in time.

It was the third out and he had to immediately take to the mound to hurl in the bottom of the eighth. In addition, as All-Star manager Jim Hasse described, "it was a comedy of errors."

The Defenders, sparked by an empty base homer by one of their outfielders, made their final and successful bid.

While it was a well-errored tilt there was plenty of spectacular fielding. Enough to keep all the fans until the last pitch.

Examples were Blum's dive and catch of a hot grounder which he beautifully fired for a put-out at first. And equally spectacular plays were scored at third base by Al Bovee and in the outfield by Bob DeRosa prior to his relieving Thurman in the eighth.

Four Marin Speedsters Among First To Enter Laguna Seca Sports Races

Four Marin County speedsters are among the first entries for the Laguna Seca Invitational Sports Car Races June 10 and 11 at Monterey.

They are John Van der Male of Wolfback Ridge, Sausalito; Odette Bigler, 830 LaPlaya Way, San Rafael; Charles Kuhn, 510 Alameda de la Loma, Novato; and Michael Worlund, 113 Van Winkle Drive, San Anselmo.

Van der Male, who raced this year at Stockton, has entered his red 1948 MGTC roadster in the H production class.

Miss Bigler will drive her green 1961 Lotus Formula Junior in the big event. She has been racing for three years. In 1959 she finished first in class at Laguna Seca, Vaca Valley and Tracy. This year she raced at Stockton and Sacramento, where she finished third overall in her class in both races. On the first day of the Sacramento races she had the fastest lap.

Kuhn will run in the F production class piloting a white 1956 Porsche speedster.

Worlund, who raced this year at Stockton and Sacramento, will wheel his red 1958 Austin Healey Sprite in the G production class.

These drivers will be in fast company at the Fort Ord raceway when a record-breaking field lines up for the various events on the program sponsored by the Sports Car Racing Assn. of the Monterey Peninsula.

The June 10-11 Laguna Seca Invitational, which is sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America, is the first northern California Pacific Coast championship point meet of the year.

The Laguna Seca course, an ideal spectators arena set in the rolling oak-studded hills of the Monterey Peninsula, is 1.9 miles in length and offers the drivers a challenging series of nine turns and several grades.

An advance ticket sale agency has been opened at British Motors, 1200 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco. General admission price for Saturday, June 10 is $2 and reserved seats for that day are $1 additional. Sunday's general admission is $3, reserved seats $2 additional. A special two-day general admission ticket is offered at $4. Children under 12 are admitted free. Mail orders may be directed to SCRAMP, Box 489, Monterey.

The reserved seats are in grandstands at the start-finish line.

Fourteen races are on the program—seven qualifying races on Saturday and seven final races Sunday, including Go Kart and women's events.

Giants Give Cub Ace Elston A Taste Of His Own Poison

CHICAGO (UPI)—Don Elston, the Chicago Cubs' ace relief pitcher, used to be poison to the San Francisco Giants, but now they are handing him a dose of his own stuff.

It was on May 17 that Elston, who had a 10-4 lifetime record against the Giants when the season opened, gave up a bases loaded walk in the ninth that cost the Cubs a 4-3 loss.

Yesterday the Giants scored a brace of unearned runs off him in the 13th inning to take a 3-2 victory and increase their league lead. Second place Pittsburgh is now two games back of the Giants and third place Los Angeles one and a half games out, having played seven more games than the Pirates and won four of them.

Manager Alvin Dark's troops went after their fourth win in five games on the road today when they sent Billy Loes (3-2) out to the mound. He was faced by hard-luck Dick Drott (0-1), who lost a one-run decision to the Giants 11 days ago.

KUENN THE HERO

Harvey Kuenn settled yesterday's marathon job with a single off Elston that gave San Francisco a 3-1 lead. The Cubs drove Sam Jones out of the box in their half, but Ed Fisher came in to retire the final batter and assure Sam his fourth win against three losses.

Jones was the fourth of five Giant hurlers to work. Elston (5-4) had taken over for Don Cardwell in the 8th inning.

Jose Pagan opened the 13th with a grounder which third baseman Ron Santo booted. Pagan was rubbed out as Joe Amalfitano hit into a fielder's choice, but Felipe Alou singled to put two men aboard. Kuenn then came up in the 40-degree temperature and singled across Amalfitano and Alou followed him across in a wild relay throw by right fielder Billy Williams.

Williams then smacked Jones for a single after two were out in the Cubs' half of the 13th and he tallied on Santo's double off the left field wall. Old Sam got the hook at that point and Fisher ended the game by retiring Al Heist on a fly after intentionally passing Ernie Banks.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the seventh off Juan Marichal on back to back doubles by Banks and George Altman. The Giants routed Cardwell in the eighth when they tied the score on a string of singles by Amalfitano, pinch hitter Matty Alou and Kuenn.

Rosi Vs. Matthews In TVer Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Paolo Rosi takes on lightweight contender Len Matthews tonight in what could be his last stand before a national audience.

The 33-year-old Italian-born New Yorker is a 12-5 underdog to the 22-year-old Philadelphian for their 10-round television (ABC TV, 7 p.m., PDT) fight at Madison Square Garden.

This is a must-win-or-else scrap for Rosi, no longer ranked among the top 10 contenders.

In more than 10 years as a pro he has had only 43 fights for a 34-7-2 won-lost-draw record, including 14 knockouts.

Matthews, a pro only 3½ years, has a 31-5-2 record, including 19 knockouts. Lenny is ranked fourth by Ring and fifth by the NBA.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Kapp Wants To Play With Raiders

OAKLAND (UPI)—Former University of California football star Joe Kapp may return to the Bay Area to play with the Oakland Raiders if negotiations now under way prove successful.

Kapp is under contract to the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League. But the ex-Bear quarterback's attorney, Wayne Hooper, says Kapp "wants to stay in California, live here, play ball here and work here."

Hooper said yesterday, however, that the 24-year-old player still is bound to play one more season in Canada under the option clause. He added that "I think he will play out his year with them."

According to an understanding in pro football, a player who does not play out an option has to sit out the season before joining another club, unless the original club waives its rights to him.

"I don't think it would be a good idea for Joe to sit out a year," Hooper said. "And I know that Calgary offered him a considerable raise to return."

Raiders General Manager Bud Hastings said that "since Joe has declared his intention to leave the Canadian League, we plan to initiate immediate negotiations with Calgary through our league office to get Kapp's services."

Kapp sparked California into the 1959 Rose Bowl game, where the Bears were defeated by Iowa, 38-12. He has played at Calgary for two years.

Tiburon opened its season last week with a 6-3 victory over Sabella's of San Francisco.

San Rafael, Tam, Drake Dominate All-Marin Baseball

Co-champions San Rafael and Tamalpais and runner-up Drake each placed four men on the 14-player 1961 All-Marin County Athletic League baseball squad that was selected this week by the league's coaches.

Two third basemen, two left fielders, two catchers and three pitchers were selected because of ties in the balloting.

San Rafael's All-Leaguers were junior pitching ace Jack Sovereign, second baseman Rich Curry, left fielder Billy Roberts and third baseman Tom Williams.

From Tam, the honorees were first baseman Russ Adams, third baseman Norm Kreuter, left fielder Dave Perlis and centerfielder Ed "Chip" Collins.

Drake's honored players include batting champion Mike Bresnan as catcher, shortstop Jerry Ard, right fielder Vince Pallavicini and pitcher Nino Geminiani.

Lu Haas of Novato as a catcher and Rich Brear of Redwood, a pitcher, were the only players from the second division to make the lineup.

Eight of the All-Leaguers were among the league's top 12 batters hitting over .300.

Bresnan led the pack with a torrid .452 clip on 14 hits in 31 at bats, including two triples.

Pallavicini won his All-League rating on the strength of 11 runs batted in and a .344 batting average.

Also for Drake, shortstop Ard packed a strong bat with an average of .371 and nine runs batted in and pitcher Geminiani turned in the most complete games of any hurler in the circuit, five.

Novato's Lu Haas with a .320 average and three home runs, tops in the league, was the long ball specialist on the All-League squad. Five of his hits went for extra bases.

Adams of Tam served double duty as first sacker and pitcher for the co-champions and his runner-up batting average of .424, including six extra base hits, lifted him onto the honor lineup. The other Tam All-Leaguers, Perlis, Collins, and Kreuter, were defensive gems with a batting punch to boot. Perlis hit well in the clutch, although he was below.300 on the season, and he also contributed a valuable pitching victory to relieve a tired starting staff. Collins, who set a record of 15 runs scored on the season, also posted a healthy .382 average at the plate. Kreuter hit below .300, but his all-around outstanding performance was a key factor in Tam's championship.

San Rafael's All-League players were headline makers all season. Sovereign was the league's best pitcher with a 6-1 record which included the first no-hit, no-run performance (against Drake) in the young league's history. He also led the circuit in strikeouts with 56.

Third sacker Williams won the league's RBI title with 12; Curry and Roberts each batted .303 on the year.

Redwood's Rich Brear was runner-up to Sovereign in the strikeout department with 52, but his record for a losing team was only one win and five losses.

Hamilton Defeats San Rafael Stars

Some 300 baseball fans last night not only contributed to the San Rafael Pony Baseball League's financial needs, but watched a rip roaring ball game as the Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders pushed over the San Rafael All Stars, nine runs to seven at Albert Field.

For the first four innings it was a stalemate under the influential arms of The Defender's winning pitcher and All-Star Jerry DeRosa.

But in the bottom of the fourth Hamilton scored and then chalked up another run in the fifth frame. By this time relief hurler Fred Thurman was on the mound and held the Defenders to one more run before an All-Star rally in the seventh.

It was second baseman Rich Curry of the San Rafael High champs who started the All-Star spurt. He was the leading batter of the night with three hits. The College of Marin's valuable shortstop Ron Blum got the biggest crack of the night at the Defenders when in that sizzling seventh he smacked a gorgeous double to score two runs and ram the All-Stars ahead sixth to three.

In that same inning relief pitcher Thurman was able to get aboard and went clear to third on a Defender error. Fairly pooped by that time, Thurman had to start again for home when the Defenders made an additional error on the subsequent play. It was all Thurman could do to stagger to the dish, and needless to say it wasn't in time.

It was the third out and he had to immediately take to the mound to hurl in the bottom of the eighth. In addition, as All-Star manager Jim Hasse described, "it was a comedy of errors."

The Defenders, sparked by an empty base homer by one of their outfielders, made their final and successful bid.

While it was a well-errored tilt there was plenty of spectacular fielding. Enough to keep all the fans until the last pitch.

Examples were Blum's dive and catch of a hot grounder which he beautifully fired for a put-out at first. And equally spectacular plays were scored at third base by Al Bovee and in the outfield by Bob DeRosa prior to his relieving Thurman in the eighth.

Four Marin Speedsters Among First To Enter Laguna Seca Sports Races

Four Marin County speedsters are among the first entries for the Laguna Seca Invitational Sports Car Races June 10 and 11 at Monterey.

They are John Van der Male of Wolfback Ridge, Sausalito; Odette Bigler, 830 LaPlaya Way, San Rafael; Charles Kuhn, 510 Alameda de la Loma, Novato; and Michael Worlund, 113 Van Winkle Drive, San Anselmo.

Van der Male, who raced this year at Stockton, has entered his red 1948 MGTC roadster in the H production class.

Miss Bigler will drive her green 1961 Lotus Formula Junior in the big event. She has been racing for three years. In 1959 she finished first in class at Laguna Seca, Vaca Valley and Tracy. This year she raced at Stockton and Sacramento, where she finished third overall in her class in both races. On the first day of the Sacramento races she had the fastest lap.

Kuhn will run in the F production class piloting a white 1956 Porsche speedster.

Worlund, who raced this year at Stockton and Sacramento, will wheel his red 1958 Austin Healey Sprite in the G production class.

These drivers will be in fast company at the Fort Ord raceway when a record-breaking field lines up for the various events on the program sponsored by the Sports Car Racing Assn. of the Monterey Peninsula.

The June 10-11 Laguna Seca Invitational, which is sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America, is the first northern California Pacific Coast championship point meet of the year.

The Laguna Seca course, an ideal spectators arena set in the rolling oak-studded hills of the Monterey Peninsula, is 1.9 miles in length and offers the drivers a challenging series of nine turns and several grades.

An advance ticket sale agency has been opened at British Motors, 1200 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco. General admission price for Saturday, June 10 is $2 and reserved seats for that day are $1 additional. Sunday's general admission is $3, reserved seats $2 additional. A special two-day general admission ticket is offered at $4. Children under 12 are admitted free. Mail orders may be directed to SCRAMP, Box 489, Monterey.

Giants Give Cub Ace Elston A Taste Of His Own Poison

CHICAGO (UPI)—Don Elston, the Chicago Cubs' ace relief pitcher, used to be poison to the San Francisco Giants, but now they are handing him a dose of his own stuff.

It was on May 17 that Elston, who had a 10-4 lifetime record against the Giants when the season opened, gave up a bases loaded walk in the ninth that cost the Cubs a 4-3 loss.

Yesterday the Giants scored a brace of unearned runs off him in the 13th inning to take a 3-2 victory and increase their league lead. Second place Pittsburgh is now two games back of the Giants and third place Los Angeles one and a half games out, having played seven more games than the Pirates and won four of them.

Manager Alvin Dark's troops went after their fourth win in five games on the road today when they sent Billy Loes (3-2) out to the mound. He was faced by hard-luck Dick Drott (0-1), who lost a one-run decision to the Giants 11 days ago.

KUENN THE HERO

Harvey Kuenn settled yesterday's marathon job with a single off Elston that gave San Francisco a 3-1 lead. The Cubs drove Sam Jones out of the box in their half, but Ed Fisher came in to retire the final batter and assure Sam his fourth win against three losses.

Jones was the fourth of five Giant hurlers to work. Elston (5-4) had taken over for Don Cardwell in the 8th inning.

Jose Pagan opened the 13th with a grounder which third baseman Ron Santo booted. Pagan was rubbed out as Joe Amalfitano hit into a fielder's choice, but Felipe Alou singled to put two men aboard. Kuenn then came up in the 40-degree temperature and singled across Amalfitano and Alou followed him across in a wild relay throw by right fielder Billy Williams.

Williams then smacked Jones for a single after two were out in the Cubs' half of the 13th and he tallied on Santo's double off the left field wall. Old Sam got the hook at that point and Fisher ended the game by retiring Al Heist on a fly after intentionally passing Ernie Banks.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the seventh off Juan Marichal on back to back doubles by Banks and George Altman. The Giants routed Cardwell in the eighth when they tied the score on a string of singles by Amalfitano, pinch hitter Matty Alou and Kuenn.

Rosi Vs. Matthews In TVer Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Paolo Rosi takes on lightweight contender Len Matthews tonight in what could be his last stand before a national audience.

The 33-year-old Italian-born New Yorker is a 12-5 underdog to the 22-year-old Philadelphian for their 10-round television (ABC TV, 7 p.m., PDT) fight at Madison Square Garden.

This is a must-win-or-else scrap for Rosi, no longer ranked among the top 10 contenders.

In more than 10 years as a pro he has had only 43 fights for a 34-7-2 won-lost-draw record, including 14 knockouts.

Matthews, a pro only 3½ years, has a 31-5-2 record, including 19 knockouts. Lenny is ranked fourth by Ring and fifth by the NBA.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Kapp Wants To Play With Raiders

OAKLAND (UPI)—Former University of California football star Joe Kapp may return to the Bay Area to play with the Oakland Raiders if negotiations now under way prove successful.

Kapp is under contract to the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League. But the ex-Bear quarterback's attorney, Wayne Hooper, says Kapp "wants to stay in California, live here, play ball here and work here."

Hooper said yesterday, however, that the 24-year-old player still is bound to play one more season in Canada under the option clause. He added that "I think he will play out his year with them."

According to an understanding in pro football, a player who does not play out an option has to sit out the season before joining another club, unless the original club waives its rights to him.

"I don't think it would be a good idea for Joe to sit out a year," Hooper said. "And I know that Calgary offered him a considerable raise to return."

Raiders General Manager Bud Hastings said that "since Joe has declared his intention to leave the Canadian League, we plan to initiate immediate negotiations with Calgary through our league office to get Kapp's services."

Kapp sparked California into the 1959 Rose Bowl game, where the Bears were defeated by Iowa, 38-12. He has played at Calgary for two years.

Tiburon Pelicans Battle Alameda Club In Rematch

Tiburon Pelicans will play Crolls of Alameda tomorrow in a semi-professional baseball game at Judge Field in Tiburon starting at 2:30 p.m. Right hander Buzz Wensloff will start on the mound for the Pelicans.

If this resembles last year's meeting between these clubs, fans will be in for a thriller. The 1960 game saw Tiburon eke out a 7-6 decision over Crolls in 12 innings.

Tiburon opened its season last week with a 6-3 victory over Sabella's of San Francisco.

Pastor John Rotto, who will officiate, announced that the ceremonies will be held at the proposed church's site, 2626 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, just west of the Fairfax city limits.

Construction is to begin June 1 by the William Horstmeyer Construction Co. of San Francisco, said Carl Carlsen, president of the congregation.

The groundbreaking will mark an "important state in the growth and development" of the church since the American Lutheran Church's board of American missions announced they would establish the congregation last fall, explained Pastor Rotto.

The congregation now has a formal membership of 145 and a Sunday school of 80 pupils.

30 New Members

Thirty persons were received into membership of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Novato last Sunday, it was reported. Immediately after the service, members of the congregation left for McNear Park in Petaluma for the annual picnic.

San Rafael High Graduate Will Be Ordained Priest

JAMES O'SHAUGHNESSY
To be ordained

James L. O'Shaughnessy, a graduate of San Rafael High School and long-time resident of San Rafael, will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday, June 10, at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco.

O'Shaughnessy will be the second priest to be ordained for the Archdiocese of San Francisco from St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Rev. Cornelius Burns of Raphael Gardens was the first. He was ordained in 1955 and is now teaching at St. Joseph's Preparatory Seminary in Mountain View. He also taught at Marin Catholic High School.

O'Shaughnessy has studied for six years at St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park. Before entering the seminary he attended the University of California and was majoring in history. As a youngster he attended old Main School in San Anselmo, West End, old B Street, and E Street grammar schools in San Rafael.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Shaughnessy, long-time residents of San Rafael who are now living in Santa Rosa, where Harry O'Shaughnessy is commercial supervisor for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for Sonoma County.

James O'Shaughnessy will celebrate his first Solemn Mass at St. Eugene's Church in Santa Rosa June 11 at 11 a.m. A Mass, to be celebrated by him at St. Raphael's, is to be announced.

Dr. Frank B. Norris, Professor of Dogmatic Theology at St. Patrick's Seminary and a former resident of Lagunitas will speak at the Santa Rosa Mass. Among other ministers of the Mass will be William Moon Jr. of Marinwood, a seminarian studying for the Franciscan Fathers Order at San Luis Rey Mission in San Diego County.

MISSIONARY TO BURMA WILL SPEAK

Rev. Harold Schock, a missionary to Burma from 1955 until 1960, will speak on his work at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley, it was announced.

Sent to Burma by the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Rev. Schock was pastor of a church on the Rangoon University campus for three years and also did work with Indian and Chinese Baptists in Burma.

The pastor, with his wife, Estelle, and four children will return to Burma this year. The Schocks live in Berkeley where Rev. Schock is studying at the University of California and Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

United Church Constitution Is Accepted

Pastor Benton S. Gaskell of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere announced this week that his congregation has voted to accept the constitution of the new United Church of Christ.

The new united church, initiated in 1957, is a merger of the Congregational Evangelical and Reformed churches. But by reason of the autonomous nature of the Congregational government, individual Congregational parishes may accept or reject the United church constitution. Most voting in Congregational churches took place this spring and was in favor of the constitution, it was reported.

Samuel Fordyce, member of the building committee of the Belvedere church announced that a contract has been given the Kenneth Frost Associates of Tiburon, an engineering firm. The firm will begin the first phase of a $60,000 building and development program for the church of six acres of property above Hawthorne Terrace, near the Belvedere-Tiburon Highway.

The first phase of development will consist of the formation of an assessment district and an access road, as well as other facilities, explained Dr. Gaskell. Actual building construction will begin in about a year, he said.

Assistant Pastor To Preach Farewell Sermon

Fred Schultz, assistant pastor of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church and student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will preach a farewell sermon tomorrow at the church's 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services.

Schultz and his wife, Karen, plan to leave for Germany where Schultz will do graduate work. He received a scholarship for the undertaking from the seminary for "his superior work as a student," announced Pastor David C. Jacobsen.

Musical Worship

The congregation of the Novato Presbyterian Church will worship through music Sunday when the church's adult choir will sing for both services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Rev. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato will lead services tomorrow and the following four Sundays. The new pastor, Rev. C. M. Croughan will arrive July 1, it was announced.

Third Performance

Miss Rose Arzoomanian of Chicago will perform her third sacred musical concert this spring in Marin County at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Valley Baptist Church in San Rafael, announced Pastor Stanley Walsh. Refreshments will be served following the concert, announced Rev. Walsh.

'WE'RE HEADING FOR THE RIVER'

Presbyterian teen-agers wave goodby to Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax as they simulate leaving Marin for Westminster Woods, a Presbyterian Church conference ground near the Russian River in Sonoma County. They, along with some 60 teen-agers from the Redwoods Presbytery, were to have left last night in old clothes on a weekend work project to get the woods in shape for summer conferences. Directors of the project are Pete and Dorothy Belden, members of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. From left are Ross McKay of the San Anselmo church, and Janet Pemble, Suzanne Scott, and Ken Oleari of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael. (Independent-Journal photo)

Building Ceremony Scheduled

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the first church building and educational unit of Christ the Victor Lutheran Church in Fairfax will be held tomorrow immediately following the congregation's 10:30 a.m. worship service in the Fairfax Theater.

Pastor John Rotto, who will officiate, announced that the ceremonies will be held at the proposed church's site, 2626 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, just west of the Fairfax city limits.

Construction is to begin June 1 by the William Horstmeyer Construction Co. of San Francisco, said Carl Carlsen, president of the congregation.

The groundbreaking will mark an "important state in the growth and development" of the church since the American Lutheran Church's board of American missions announced they would establish the congregation last fall, explained Pastor Rotto.

The congregation now has a formal membership of 145 and a Sunday school of 80 pupils.

30 New Members

Thirty persons were received into membership of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Novato last Sunday, it was reported. Immediately after the service, members of the congregation left for McNear Park in Petaluma for the annual picnic.

Christian Science

How individual rights are defended through spiritual perception of God's complete power and wisdom will be brought out at Christian Science churches in Marin County tomorrow, it was announced.

San Rafael High Graduate Will Be Ordained Priest

JAMES O'SHAUGHNESSY
To be ordained

James L. O'Shaughnessy, a graduate of San Rafael High School and long-time resident of San Rafael, will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday, June 10, at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco.

O'Shaughnessy will be the second priest to be ordained for the Archdiocese of San Francisco from St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Rev. Cornelius Burns of Raphael Gardens was the first. He was ordained in 1955 and is now teaching at St. Joseph's Preparatory Seminary in Mountain View. He also taught at Marin Catholic High School.

O'Shaughnessy has studied for six years at St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park. Before entering the seminary he attended the University of California and was majoring in history. As a youngster he attended old Main School in San Anselmo, West End, old B Street, and E Street grammar schools in San Rafael.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Shaughnessy, long-time residents of San Rafael who are now living in Santa Rosa, where Harry O'Shaughnessy is commercial supervisor for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for Sonoma County.

James O'Shaughnessy will celebrate his first Solemn Mass at St. Eugene's Church in Santa Rosa June 11 at 11 a.m. A Mass, to be celebrated by him at St. Raphael's, is to be announced.

Dr. Frank B. Norris, Professor of Dogmatic Theology at St. Patrick's Seminary and a former resident of Lagunitas will speak at the Santa Rosa Mass. Among other ministers of the Mass will be William Moon Jr. of Marinwood, a seminarian studying for the Franciscan Fathers Order at San Luis Rey Mission in San Diego County.

MISSIONARY TO BURMA WILL SPEAK

Rev. Harold Schock, a missionary to Burma from 1955 until 1960, will speak on his work at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley, it was announced.

Sent to Burma by the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Rev. Schock was pastor of a church on the Rangoon University campus for three years and also did work with Indian and Chinese Baptists in Burma.

The pastor, with his wife, Estelle, and four children will return to Burma this year. The Schocks live in Berkeley where Rev. Schock is studying at the University of California and Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

United Church Constitution Is Accepted

Pastor Benton S. Gaskell of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere announced this week that his congregation has voted to accept the constitution of the new United Church of Christ.

The new united church, initiated in 1957, is a merger of the Congregational Evangelical and Reformed churches. But by reason of the autonomous nature of the Congregational government, individual Congregational parishes may accept or reject the United church constitution. Most voting in Congregational churches took place this spring and was in favor of the constitution, it was reported.

Samuel Fordyce, member of the building committee of the Belvedere church announced that a contract has been given the Kenneth Frost Associates of Tiburon, an engineering firm. The firm will begin the first phase of a $60,000 building and development program for the church of six acres of property above Hawthorne Terrace, near the Belvedere-Tiburon Highway.

The first phase of development will consist of the formation of an assessment district and an access road, as well as other facilities, explained Dr. Gaskell. Actual building construction will begin in about a year, he said.

Assistant Pastor To Preach Farewell Sermon

Fred Schultz, assistant pastor of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church and student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will preach a farewell sermon tomorrow at the church's 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services.

Schultz and his wife, Karen, plan to leave for Germany where Schultz will do graduate work. He received a scholarship for the undertaking from the seminary for "his superior work as a student," announced Pastor David C. Jacobsen.

Musical Worship

The congregation of the Novato Presbyterian Church will worship through music Sunday when the church's adult choir will sing for both services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Rev. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato will lead services tomorrow and the following four Sundays. The new pastor, Rev. C. M. Croughan will arrive July 1, it was announced.

Third Performance

Miss Rose Arzoomanian of Chicago will perform her third sacred musical concert this spring in Marin County at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Valley Baptist Church in San Rafael, announced Pastor Stanley Walsh. Refreshments will be served following the concert, announced Rev. Walsh.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Trapped Man Safe

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (UPI)—Rescuers today pulled a 19-year-old father of two from the bottom of a 45-foot well in which he had been trapped since early yesterday afternoon.

Ralph Burgess was hauled to safety 16 hours and 45 minutes after the casing on the side of the 40-year-old well collapsed on him at 2 p.m. yesterday, trapping him 22 feet below the ground.

Slaying Denied

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—Police today tried to break the story of a husky young man who denied the rape-slaying of two socially prominent matrons despite being implicated by a companion.

Authorities said Lorelle Parks, 22, signed a statement admitting he criminally assaulted and killed one of the women. Parks implicated Joseph Maxey, 23, as the slayer of the second victim. However, Maxey has refused to make a statement, police said.

The two men faced arraignment today on murder charges.

Congo Fight Flares

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, May 27 (UPI)—The United Nations reported today that Ghanaian troops of the U.N. force killed four South Kasai soldiers in a sharp gunfight near The Congo town of Mukambo.

A spokesman said the South Kasai troops were attacking rival Lundu tribesmen working at the local airfield when the U.N. forces intervened.

Iran Crisis Denied

ROME (UPI)—A spokesman for the Shah of Iran today discounted rumors that he had cut short his stay in Norway because of a fresh political crisis at home.

The spokesman insisted that the Shah left Norway suddenly because his beautiful young wife, Queen Farah, wanted to go to a warmer climate.

The Shah and Farah, who flew in last night from Oslo, will remain in Rome for a few days and were expected to visit Princess Shanaz, the Shah's daughter by a former queen.

Long Strike Ends

HENDERSON, N.C. (UPI)—One of the country's most violent and longest textile strikes ended yesterday at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills with the union conceding defeat.

The Textile Workers Union of America said it called off the costly 2½-year strike, which had turned members of families against each other, because to continue "would serve only to block constructive developments in behalf of our members in Henderson."

Workers in the plant which resumed production during 1959 are presently without a contract or any union representation.

The union said further picketing at the mills, presently operating on a full-time basis, would be futile.

Twins For Silvers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Phil Silvers' wife gave birth to twin girls today — two days after he was named national stage father of the year.

"Quite a show today," quipped Silver, star of the TV series "Sgt. Bilko".

The couple already have two daughters, Tracy, 4, and Nancy, 2.

Natives To Strike

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Many of South Africa's three million native laborers will goon strike Monday in protest against a republic they had no voice in creating, it was reported today.

The natives have been urged by labor leaders to remain on strike until Thursday — the day after South Africa becomes a republic.

Police officials assured both whites and blacks that "there is nothing to fear," but white housewives were learning to use guns just in case.

Strike organizers yesterday repeated previous assurances they do not plan violence.

Flynn's Son Signs

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Sean Flynn, 20, son of the late Errol Flynn, yesterday won court approval of a motion picture contract for $1,000 a week.

Superior Judge Orland Rhodes approved the contract with Sage Western pictures. Young Flynn is to star in the studio's production of "The Son of Captain Blood," a sequal to "Captain Blood" which catapulted his father to stardom.

Graham Ailing

LONDON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham announced last night he whl not be able to conduct revival meetings in northern England next week because he is suffering from a "severe upper respiratory infection."

The American evangelist has been laid up by throat infection since Monday, just before he was to begin a series of one-night meetings in southern England.

Marilyn Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Marilyn Monroe was back at home today recuperating from a minor operation performed Thursday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

The actress's surgeon, Dr. Leon Krohn, a gynecologist, said the operation was completely successful. Miss Monroe entered the hospital Wednesday.

Garroway Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Garroway, 48, has resigned from his early morning NBC television program, "Today."

Garroway's wife, Pamela, died last April 28, leaving him with three children.

Now that his wife is gone, Garroway said, "I feel I must become the best father I can. Our family needs each other now more than ever."

Atlas Test Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—An advanced Atlas missile designed for heavier payload and greater range has scored its second straight success on a 5,000-mile test flight.

The flight last night is further evidence that the Air Force has solved problems which beset the new Atlas "E" rocket in early test firings.

Typhoon Betty

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Typhoon Betty, packing deadly winds up to 120 miles an hour and torrential rains, lashed Formosa last night and churned across the island early today causing considerable destruction to property.

Reports reaching Taipei said the typhoon flattened hundreds of huts and wooden frame houses along the southeast coast. More than 1,000 persons were moved from flooded homes to school buildings.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Trapped Man Safe

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (UPI)—Rescuers today pulled a 19-year-old father of two from the bottom of a 45-foot well in which he had been trapped since early yesterday afternoon.

Ralph Burgess was hauled to safety 16 hours and 45 minutes after the casing on the side of the 40-year-old well collapsed on him at 2 p.m. yesterday, trapping him 22 feet below the ground.

Slaying Denied

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—Police today tried to break the story of a husky young man who denied the rape-slaying of two socially prominent matrons despite being implicated by a companion.

Authorities said Lorelle Parks, 22, signed a statement admitting he criminally assaulted and killed one of the women. Parks implicated Joseph Maxey, 23, as the slayer of the second victim. However, Maxey has refused to make a statement, police said.

The two men faced arraignment today on murder charges.

Congo Fight Flares

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, May 27 (UPI)—The United Nations reported today that Ghanaian troops of the U.N. force killed four South Kasai soldiers in a sharp gunfight near The Congo town of Mukambo.

A spokesman said the South Kasai troops were attacking rival Lundu tribesmen working at the local airfield when the U.N. forces intervened.

Iran Crisis Denied

ROME (UPI)—A spokesman for the Shah of Iran today discounted rumors that he had cut short his stay in Norway because of a fresh political crisis at home.

The spokesman insisted that the Shah left Norway suddenly because his beautiful young wife, Queen Farah, wanted to go to a warmer climate.

The Shah and Farah, who flew in last night from Oslo, will remain in Rome for a few days and were expected to visit Princess Shanaz, the Shah's daughter by a former queen.

Long Strike Ends

HENDERSON, N.C. (UPI)—One of the country's most violent and longest textile strikes ended yesterday at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills with the union conceding defeat.

The Textile Workers Union of America said it called off the costly 2½-year strike, which had turned members of families against each other, because to continue "would serve only to block constructive developments in behalf of our members in Henderson."

Workers in the plant which resumed production during 1959 are presently without a contract or any union representation.

The union said further picketing at the mills, presently operating on a full-time basis, would be futile.

Twins For Silvers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Phil Silvers' wife gave birth to twin girls today—two days after he was named national stage father of the year.

"Quite a show today," quipped Silver, star of the TV series "Sgt. Bilko".

The couple already have two daughters, Tracy, 4, and Nancy, 2.

Natives To Strike

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Many of South Africa's three million native laborers will goon strike Monday in protest against a republic they had no voice in creating, it was reported today.

The natives have been urged by labor leaders to remain on strike until Thursday — the day after South Africa becomes a republic.

Police officials assured both whites and blacks that "there is nothing to fear," but white housewives were learning to use guns just in case.

Strike organizers yesterday repeated previous assurances they do not plan violence.

Flynn's Son Signs

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Sean Flynn, 20, son of the late Errol Flynn, yesterday won court approval of a motion picture contract for $1,000 a week.

Superior Judge Orland Rhodes approved the contract with Sage Western pictures. Young Flynn is to star in the studio's production of "The Son of Captain Blood," a sequal to "Captain Blood" which catapulted his father to stardom.

Graham Ailing

LONDON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham announced last night he wlil not be able to conduct revival meetings in northern England next week because he is suffering from a "severe upper respiratory infection."

The American evangelist has been laid up by throat infection since Monday, just before he was to begin a series of one-night meetings in southern England.

Marilyn Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Marilyn Monroe was back at home today recuperating from a minor operation performed Thursday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

The actress's surgeon, Dr. Leon Krohn, a gynecologist, said the operation was completely successful. Miss Monroe entered the hospital Wednesday.

Garroway Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Garroway, 48, has resigned from his early morning NBC television program, "Today."

Garroway's wife, Pamela, died last April 28, leaving him with three children.

Now that his wife is gone, Garroway said, "I feel I must become the best father I can. Our family needs each other now more than ever."

Atlas Test Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—An advanced Atlas missile designed for heavier payload and greater range has scored its second straight success on a 5,000-mile test flight.

The flight last night is further evidence that the Air Force has solved problems which beset the new Atlas "E" rocket in early test firings.

Typhoon Betty

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Typhoon Betty, packing deadly winds up to 120 miles an hour and torrential rains, lashed Formosa last night and churned across the island early today causing considerable destruction to property.

Reports reaching Taipei said the typhoon flattened hundreds of huts and wooden frame houses along the southeast coast. More than 1,000 persons were moved from flooded homes to school buildings.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Have A Nice Holiday; Please Come Home Safe

It is unhappy reality that often when we seek pleasure we find disaster.

Nowhere is this better illustrated than on our highways during long summer holidays.

Many people are planning special excursions for this first of these holidays. It is Memorial Day, not a time of celebration, but a time of tribute, a time of memory, and a time of prayer.

But we Americans aren't much concerned any more about what the holiday represents. We only care about having another day off work. And we prefer to have it as close to the weekend as possible so that we can have a long weekend.

When the holiday falls on Tuesday, it is a problem for some people. Should they take a really long weekend—four whole days? Or should they plan to work Monday and then take a quick little trip to the mountains or the river leaving after work Monday night or early Tuesday morning?

Some will do one thing and some will do the other. At least 15 of those Californians who plan to take the quick little one-day holiday will not live to see June, according to an estimate of the California Highway Patrol. The CHP wouldn't even venture a guess about the total number of highway fatalities over the whole four days.

It is discouraging enough to realize that 15 of your fellow motorists will die in accidents in one 30-hour period. It is worse to recall that this is just the first of the holiday slaughters. Each holiday every year gets worse than the one before it, culminating in the big Labor Day massacre when each year we seem to be able to kill more people by four-wheeled execution than at any other time of the year.

It is unfortunately true too, that some who die will be blameless. Only one driver may be at fault in a head-on crash, but occupants of both cars may be killed.

Thus it is necessary for every driver to not only drive carefully and courteously himself, but he must be alert for the other driver as well.

Have a happy holiday weekend.

Please come home safe.

Little Bells Opening Now

Marin's most distinguished member of the bellflower family, the Canterbury Bell, is just starting to bloom here now. Its lovely pink, white or blue cups and saucers are a favorite, easy to grow flower in many of our county's gardens.

This 24-inch tall plant, which may have 60 blossoms, is a welcome immigrant from the south of Europe. The name of the genus to which it belongs is Campanula, Latin for Little-bells. The genus of the Little-bells also includes the Scotch Blue Bells and the Chimney Bellflower. The delicately beautiful California Bellflower is a member of the genus native to the wooded slopes of Marin.

WHEN YOUNGSTERS GET BORED

"You'd get bored, too, with the same old routine of getting up, getting dressed, eating and going to school every day," was the reason an 8-year-old boy gave for taking off on a 20-minute jaunt in his father's car.

The youngster started out shortly after midnight with his brother, 9, from their South St. Louis home. They managed to pass four police cars, cross a bridge over the Mississippi River and pay a 25-cent toll without attracting any notice.

But their early morning escapade came to a halt when state highway policemen finally stopped the motoring brothers at an intersection and then notified their horrified parents.

SCHOOL BILL BATTLE

Kennedy Tries To Cut Impacted Area Aid

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The administration is using all of the tactics at its command to muster enough votes in Congress to pass its school bill. The bill, now under Senate debate, is assured of passage, and will soon be brought up in the House, where its outcome is more doubtful.

But on one part of the bill, Congress will undoubtedly vote President Kennedy more funds than he wants. Titles II and III of the school bill extend the life of two 10-year-old programs which grant federal funds for the construction, maintenance and teachers' salaries of public schools in areas "impacted" by federal activities.

These special programs were begun in 1950 to compensate for tax losses suffered as a result of tax-free federal installations.

UNDER THE programs, the government pays 100 per cent of the local share of the cost of educating each child whose parents both live and work on federal property. It pays 50 per cent of the local share of the cost of educating children whose parents live or work on taxable property. Most Marin school districts receive such funds.

Congress several times rebuffed President Eisenhower's requests for cutbacks in the impacted-areas program. It looks as if President Kennedy will be no more successful. He asked that where a parent lives or works on taxable property, the government pay only 25 per cent of the cost of educating the child. He also requested repeal of grants where contract activities suddenly increase.

WELL AWARE of the popularity of these special programs, the Kennedy Administration tied the provisions extending and cutting the impacted-areas programs into its general education bill. It said the impacted-area cuts would be more than compensated for by the funds granted for the general aid.

Some congressmen quickly rejoined that their districts would suffer a net loss in school aid. This would not be true in all districts, but it came as no surprise to administration strategists that congressmen were showing no propensity to cut funds for their constituencies.

Both the bill under debate in the Senate and the bill approved by a House subcommittee extend the impacted areas aid for three more years at full force, without the cuts.

BUT IF THE tail wags the dog in the House—if inclusion of impacted-areas aid provides just enough extra votes to squeeze the school bill through — administration strategists will consider the victory worth the higher price.

Marin's Congressman Clem Miller voted on March 7 in favor of an amendment to an appropriations bill to provide an additional $30 million in impacted-areas aid. Last year, on passage of the bill to provide nationwide federal grants for school construction, he failed to vote but was paired in favor of the bill. The school bill was passed by the House by a 206-189 vote (but failed of final approval by both chambers). The impacted-areas appropriation was approved by a 339-62 vote.

Have A Nice Holiday; Please Come Home Safe

It is unhappy reality that often when we seek pleasure we find disaster.

Nowhere is this better illustrated than on our highways during long summer holidays.

Many people are planning special excursions for this first of these holidays. It is Memorial Day, not a time of celebration, but a time of tribute, a time of memory, and a time of prayer.

But we Americans aren't much concerned any more about what the holiday represents. We only care about having another day off work. And we prefer to have it as close to the weekend as possible so that we can have a long weekend.

When the holiday falls on Tuesday, it is a problem for some people. Should they take a really long weekend—four whole days? Or should they plan to work Monday and then take a quick little trip to the mountains or the river leaving after work Monday night or early Tuesday morning?

Some will do one thing and some will do the other. At least 15 of those Californians who plan to take the quick little one-day holiday will not live to see June, according to an estimate of the California Highway Patrol. The CHP wouldn't even venture a guess about the total number of highway fatalities over the whole four days.

It is discouraging enough to realize that 15 of your fellow motorists will die in accidents in one 30-hour period. It is worse to recall that this is just the first of the holiday slaughters. Each holiday every year gets worse than the one before it, culminating in the big Labor Day massacre when each year we seem to be able to kill more people by four-wheeled execution than at any other time of the year.

It is unfortunately true too, that some who die will be blameless. Only one driver may be at fault in a head-on crash, but occupants of both cars may be killed.

Thus it is necessary for every driver to not only drive carefully and courteously himself, but he must be alert for the other driver as well.

Have a happy holiday weekend.

Please come home safe.

Little Bells Opening Now

Marin's most distinguished member of the bellflower family, the Canterbury Bell, is just starting to bloom here now. Its lovely pink, white or blue cups and saucers are a favorite, easy to grow flower in many of our county's gardens.

This 24-inch tall plant, which may have 60 blossoms, is a welcome immigrant from the south of Europe. The name of the genus to which it belongs is Campanula, Latin for Little-bells. The genus of the Little-bells also includes the Scotch Blue Bells and the Chimney Bellflower. The delicately beautiful California Bellflower is a member of the genus native to the wooded slopes of Marin.

Canterbury Bells are one of the simple, old-time flowers known to our pioneer forefathers. They have decorated gardens from Boston to Belvedere. Though European in origin, these beautiful blossoms are as American as George Washington or the Pony Express.

Bagley Getting Mixed Up In Redistricting

By CHAPIN A. DAY

CHIP DAY

Release of the proposed reapportionment maps for the state Assembly and congressional districts has left the political pot boiling in Sacramento.

The Republicans are screaming their heads off. They point to such things as four incumbent Republican assemblymen being put into one district as an example of how unfair the redistricting is. The Democrats answer that if the 1950 reapportionment had been fairer, such things wouldn't happen now.

But the big question that faces the Republicans now is what to do about it. They didn't have enough votes in the Assembly to stop passage and they don't have them in the Senate.

OUT OF THIS welter of disagreement, Marin County emerges peculiarly unaffected. There had been little likelihood that the Assembly district would be changed. The Seventh Assembly District, Marin and Sonoma Counties, had enough population for about 1.6 assemblymen. Possibility of giving Marin and Sonoma each their own assemblyman was given little consideration.

This has left Assemblyman William T. Bagley in a rather strategic position. He can criticize, propose or promote from a position of neutrality, from the position of a man unaffected by the outcome.

What will he do? We'll have to wait and see. One of the vital decisions was probably made in Sacramento this week when GOP leaders gathered. Public announcements were propaganda. The vital decision is whether the GOP will attempt to overthrow the Democrats in the courts.

IF THEY DECIDE to try it, will they attack both the Assembly reapportionment and the congressional apportionment, or just one or the other of them?

If they go after the Assembly proposals, which may well cost the seats of nine Republican assemblymen, they face a possibly worse fate in the state commission which legally has the next say. It is composed of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction. That is solidly Democratic, at least 3 to 2, with the schools chief being nominally non-partisan.

IN THE CONGRESSIONAL situation, the dilemma is different. If the Republicans block the congressional reapportionment, next year's elections will be held in the present congressional districts with California's eight new congressmen being elected by the state at large.

Republican leaders already have indicated they would prefer to put the eight new congressmen before the people at large rather than in "unfair" districts proposed by the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

Where does Bagley come in? It all depends on what the GOP has decided to do. Bagley may be working on some legal method of blocking the reapportionment bill. If he does, he faces the problem of when the Republicans should move. If they act too soon, the Democrats can make changes in present proposals to counteract the Republican challenge. If they act too late—it's too late.

AND WHAT OF Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy during this battle? This is an Assembly battle—the Senate isn't being redistricted.

If he's involved in it at all, it's completely behind the scenes and very quietly, because if assemblymen think senators are fooling around in their pasture, the reaction is apt to be explosive.

THERE IS ONE other possible effect on Marin. The reapportionment leaves the First Congressional District just as it is now, seven counties from Marin north to the California border. Congressman is Clem Miller, Corte Madera Democrat.

Will San Francisco Assemblyman John A. Busterud move to Marin or Santa Rosa and run for Miller's seat? He was redistricted out of a job.

Busterud is still thinking seriously of opposing Miller. But some of the San Francisco GOP big-wigs see in him a hope of upsetting Democratic San Francisco Senator Eugene McAteer.

The San Francisco assemblyman has got to make up his mind pretty soon. He's been spending practically every weekend in our district, mostly in Sonoma County, trying to interpret the straws in the wind. Perhaps the kind of a house he can find to live in—and where—may be one of the deciding factors.

Greeley didn't see the culprit again for years, but he recognized him at once and mused, "Let's see, didn't I get mad at you once and send you packing?"

"That you did," smiled the other. "Your letter blistered my hide off. But nobody could read it. San Anselmo Once Beautiful

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to answer Gay S. Jessup with:

I remember when the Northwestern Railroad station at San Anselmo was a place of beauty. Why the railroad could maintain this beauty and the buses maintain a slum appearance, I don't know. The stations at Lansdale and Yolanda were lovely.

I remember when there was a restaurant, open air built over the creek, I think it was named Harrington's. It was a place to eat where beauty and good food were plentiful, for the creek was not a place to dump garbage, but a gentle running stream.

At Lansdale, the creek was dammed and the kids had a holiday while the mother worked on Xmas gifts.

The street along the railroad track had tall trees under which it was a treat to walk. Between San Anselmo and San Rafael was a walk way for pedestrians and it was in constant use. Old man Gaston held a whip hand over any loitering boys after 9 p.m. and how they did scatter home if he hove in sight.

I still shut my eyes and see the palm tree, that nobody ever hit with an auto, standing opposite the Northwestern station. Bring back these memories! We have progressed, but why at the expense of beauty? Why can't the bus station be made to maintain a clean place? It was mandatory for the trains to.

Why can't the creek be made a running stream instead of a garbage dump?

To Gay, I hope the restaurant built over the creek will again be a place to eat, if the bus station and the creek are cleaned up.

County Clerk Election Could Turn Into A Wide-Open Horse Race

With County Clerk George S. Jones retiring after this term, it's just about a cinch that Jones' right hand man, George Gnoss, will be running for the job in next year's election.

For a while there, we heard some mention that the county clerk's daughter, Agnes Nathanson, might be in the running. But she has just about ruled herself out.

Gnoss, with long experience as deputy clerk, is a logical condidate.

But don't be surprised if other dark horses enter the picture before June of next year. Fred Dupuis has already been mentioned as a possible. He has denied interest.

Lately, there has been talk that a newly-hired deputy clerk is being groomed for a higher post. He's Joe Morrison, a friend of new Supervisor J. Walter Blair. By talking to the man, you'd hardly suspect he's a retired Army colonel.

DOES RECORDER Noel Giacomini have any aspirations for the county clerk's job?

As we see it, Giacomini is content to remain as county recorder. But if the recorder's office and county clerk is ever combined, you can bet Giacomini will be in there running with the best of them.

ON THE OTHER end of the courthouse building, Tax Collector Frank Donohue will be retiring this summer. Logical successor is Leo Vaughan.

But here too, there is an outside chance that an open race may develop. Vaughan has been ailing lately. And if he's not feeling in top shape, he may not seek the tax collector-treasurer's job.

If Vaughan does take over the job, he'll have to campaign for next June's election, because the present term expires at the end of 1962.

THE DISTRICT attorney isn't quite sure yet what to do about reports that a 15-year-old student at a nearby private school got slapped in the face by a teacher.

Comments so far range from "That's the way to discipline 'em" to "It's assault and battery against a poor helpless boy!"

The D.A. is out to get just the facts, ma'am, the facts.

(HANK) ALVERNAZ, the communications man, is ready for any Western Weekend. Have you noticed the big handlebar mustache he's sporting?

They've already dubbed him "the coffee bean man," just like in the TV commercials.

MARIN'S INFLUENCE on other areas in California is far-reaching. Next time you drive down Highway 99, the little town of Ceres will hit you in the face just south of Modesto. The utility poles are painted with sheaves of golden wheat and dusty blue grape leaves.

Connie and Palmer Field, Tiburon's indefatigable renovators, are behind it all. A couple of weekends ago, they went to Ceres and spearheaded their now-famous paint-up project there.

DEPUTY DIST. ATTY. P. Roy Vallarino is an ingenious man. He finds new ways of doing things. Whereas most people break their legs on ski trips, Vallarino managed to accomplish the same feat in a garbage can.

Says he was tromping down on the trash when he twisted his left foot and had to get it put in a cast.

Sounds like one of Roy's tall tales, but we take the word of his pretty wife, Vivian.

"Is The New Burlap A Practical Fashion?"

Very few articles of high fashion are practical. In fact, they are not supposed to be. We buy them for their high style, their newness and perhaps, their conversational value, but not for durability or practicality. After all, why should you? It is fun and exciting to wear some things that are not simply practical.

However, do not expect your drycleaner to perform miracles with something like the new burlap fad. Burlap, as you know, is made of jute, an East Indian fiber used in making rope or twine as well as burlap. It is soft and tends to fray badly where there is any amount of wear. And when your "jute suit" or burlap skirt or dress becomes wet, look out! It is more likely than ever to fray.

By all means, be in style. Keep in step with modern fashion trends, but do not expect some of these exotic fabrics to wear well or to clean like the reliable cottons, wools, silk and new synthetics.

The Hammond Family Of Preachers

Four Sons Followed Dad's Footsteps Into Ministry

By PAUL MILLER

Tomorrow Rev. Stephen Reginald Hammond of Glenwood will have actively served as an Episcopal minister for a half century.

The 50th anniversary will be celebrated at the Church of Redeemer in Glenwood with a family reunion tomorrow.

To Rector Hammond, 50th anniversaries are old hat. He and his charming wife, Hattie W. Reid Hammond, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary two years ago.

Reverend Hammond has not only dedicated five decades of his life to ministering to others through the church, but four of his five sons became Episcopal rectors. The late Rev. Keith Hammond was rector of Christ Church in Mill Valley until his death from a heart attack in 1958. Rev. D. Murray Hammond, 37, is rector of Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley, where he has served for four and one-half years. Doing research at the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, is W. Reid Hammond, 50. And Fred C. Hammond is rector of St. John's Church in San Bernardino.

THE ONLY Hammond who can wear a tie is H. Reginald Hammond, 45. He is assistant superintendent of schools in Shafter.

The senior Hammonds also had two daughters, one of whom, Elizabeth Ellen Hammond, was killed in an automobile accident in 1928. She was 17. The other daughter, Mrs. Helen Biggers, 32, is a resident of La Puenti.

The man who has given so much of himself and, in a sense, his offspring to the church, was, before he entered it, a harness-maker in Manitoba, Canada. He was born in Suilford Surrey, England, March 14, 1883. When Stephen was 10, his father, a dentist, bought some farm land, "sight unseen," from Canadian agents.

"Dad wanted to try farming, but when he got to Canada we found alkali swamps and stones."

Benjamin Hammond tried farming two years. The family lived in a log cabin that was already on the land. The 10-member family (two didn't come to Canada) shared many hardships those first years.

"I saw mornings in the winter when a nearly finished cup of tea froze if it was neglected during a conversation at the table," Reverend Hammond recalled.

FINALLY Benjamin gave up his unsuccessful farm and moved his family to Portage la Prairie about 50 miles west of Winnipeg, and re-established his dental practice. When Stephen Hammond was 14, his dad took him out of school.

"A man has got to learn a trade," believed his father.

The trade his father chose was harness-making, and what Stephen learned after being apprenticed to a harness maker was that he didn't like harness making. But he stuck by it and concentrated on the leather craft sidelines of the trade. At 19 he was made a shop foreman in Neepawa where he met Miss Hattie W. Reid. The couple in a "best looking" contest would have put any Hollywood movie pair to shame, and still do. They were married in St. John's Cathedral in Winnipeg on Nov. 17, 1909.

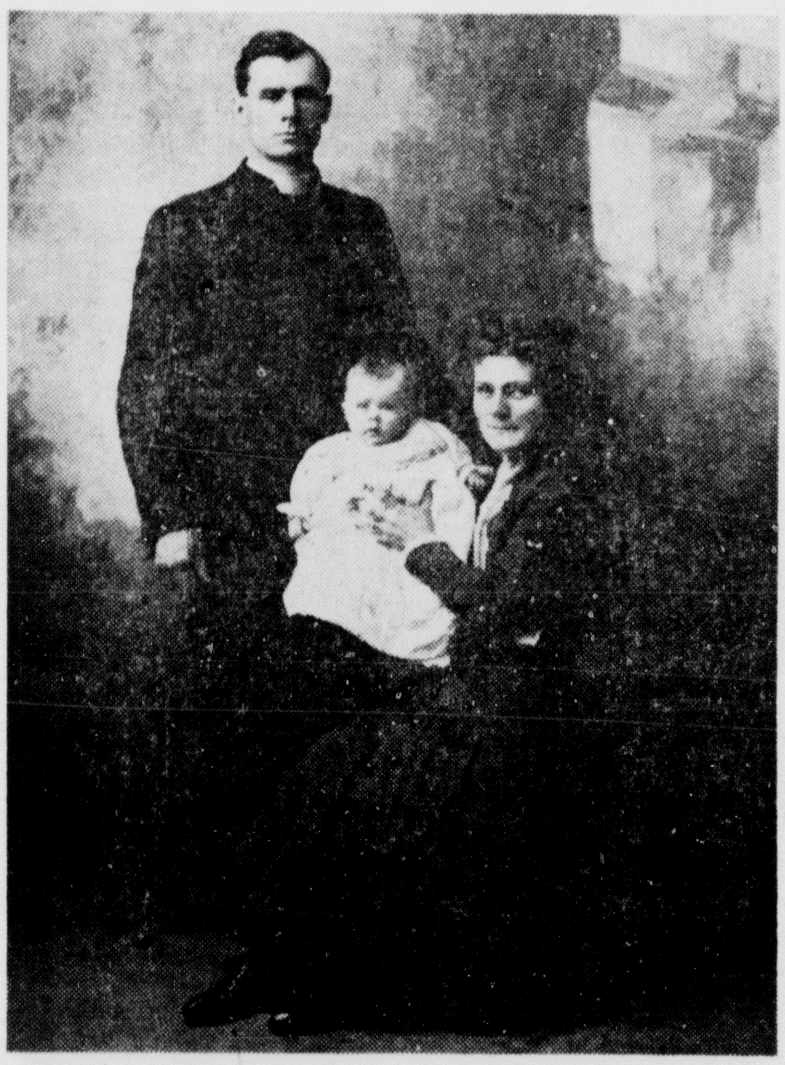

It was earlier in 1905 on an Easter Sunday when he was 22, that Stephen for the first time in a number of years went to church. The parson asked him to teach a Sunday school class. He did. And he went on to hold about every office in the church until, two years later, the same parson told Stephen Hammond he ought to go into the ministry. He did.

50 Years Service In Church

THE HAMMOND FAMILY of preachers posed together in 1952 after the ordination of Rev. D. Murray Hammond, now rector of Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley. The Hammonds, from left to right, are Helen (Biggers), Reginald, Reid, Keith (died, 1958), Murray, mother Hattie, father Stephen and Fred. The family will get together again tomorrow when the senior Hammond marks his 50th anniversary as an Episcopal minister.

man in a few weeks, but not Stephen Hammond. When he recalls the struggle of cramming four years of high school into nine months, and from there through liberal arts and theology at St. John's College in Winnipeg, Reverend Hammond's thin, firm mouth tightens without his noticing it.

"That was a hard thing, but I did it — all but the languages. They took more time."

He began work in his first parish in 1911 in Pierson, Manitoba, served four and one-half years, and in the winter of 1914 was called to Brandon in the same province where he ministered for 13 more years. And then the Hammond family, by then nine strong, headed for the then rich citrus fruit area of Ventura, Calif., where the head of the household became rector of St. Paul's for the next 20 years. Following World War II, he was called to strengthen a mission in an industrial area called Firestone Park in east Los Angeles.

"I felt I would probably retire when my work at the mission was done," recalls Reverend Hammond. His work was done in four years, and on paper he was classified as retired. But by spending an hour talking with him, one can easily see Reverend Hammond does not now know the definition of the word and didn't in 1950.

THAT YEAR he came up and preached a sermon at Christ Church in Mill Valley at the persuasion of his late son, Keith. The next thing Rev. Stephen Hammond knew he was still a rector, and he stayed on in Mill Valley for six and a half more years. Surely he would rest now. But no sooner did he leave the Mill Valley parish in 1957 than he was called to become the organizing pastor of a church in Glenwood.

The three-year-old Church of the Redeemer's place of worship is the authoritative, reddish wood and brick mansion that could be described as the more than modest former ranch house of the McNear family.

The Church of the Redeemer has some 75 families who are members, and it will become a parish to many of the future dwellers of some 1,700 new homes proposed for the bay-side area.

An irritating, yet important question that is too often asked a minister is: Why did you become one? The senior Reverend Hammond actually answered this question by describing how his sons, none of whom wanted to be ministers at the outset, had come to their decisions. Before they entered the ministry one was in business, one in the military, and the other two were newspapermen.

"It's hard to describe. I remember Keith had a lot of explanations, but he also had an 'inner conviction,' too," recalled father Hammond.

Rev. Murray Hammond answered for himself, and from the agreement registered by his mother and dad, probably spoke for ministers everywhere.

"THERE ARE a lot of motivations," he explained, "some of which we are aware. But as to what led me immediately to the ministry, I would have to think in terms of the church being very much a part of my life. I remember sitting as a boy in the choir chancel and listening to 'pop' preach and feeling that what he said had pertinence to people's lives . . . "

Mother Hammond was asked just about the same question regarding life as a minister's wife and as a mother of ministers.

"It is so satisfying ministering to others through the church . . . I was glad to see my sons also become ministers, but I also would have liked one of them to become a doctor."

EVENTUALLY the conversation got around to some of the fun the Hammond family has had in its own "One Foot in Heaven."

The head of the clan was now under fire: "Remember, Stephen, I laid out some baby powder and things along with communion wine and bread early one Sunday morning in Pierson and you absent mindedly ran off to your service with the powder instead of the wine?" ribbed mom.

"How about the time you loaned Reg the car in Ventura, dad, and two hours later forgot you had done so and called the police because you thought it was stolen? And that wasn't the last time you did that either," heckled his son.

"But I'll never forget the time you took Fred to church in the carriage with you—he was 3—and when you came back from speaking you were all alone. You had absent mindedly left him at the church," said mom.

Now it was dad's turn, but, experienced and wise, he merely smiled and said quietly:

"I have some stories on the rest of the family, but I'm too much of a gentleman."

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE of nearly 40 years in these two pictures of Rev. Stephen Reginald Hammond. At left, as he appeared while holding his second pastorate, in Brandon, Canada. He was then 40. At right, as he appears today as rector of Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood.

But as to what led me immediately to the ministry, I would have to think in terms of the church being very much a part of my life. I remember sitting as a boy in the choir chancel and listening to 'pop' preach and feeling that what he said had pertinence to people's lives . . . "

Mother Hammond was asked just about the same question regarding life as a minister's wife and as a mother of ministers.

"It is so satisfying ministering to others through the church . . . I was glad to see my sons also become ministers, but I also would have liked one of them to become a doctor."

EVENTUALLY the conversation got around to some of the fun the Hammond family has had in its own "One Foot in Heaven."

The head of the clan was now under fire: "Remember, Stephen, I laid out some baby powder and things along with communion wine and bread early one Sunday morning in Pierson and you absent mindedly ran off to your service with the powder instead of the wine?" ribbed mom.

"How about the time you loaned Reg the car in Ventura, dad, and two hours later forgot you had done so and called the police because you thought it was stolen? And that wasn't the last time you did that either," heckled his son.

"But I'll never forget the time you took Fred to church in the carriage with you—he was 3—and when you came back from speaking you were all alone. You had absent mindedly left him at the church," said mom.

Now it was dad's turn, but, experienced and wise, he merely smiled and said quietly:

"I have some stories on the rest of the family, but I'm too much of a gentleman."

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE of nearly 40 years in these two pictures of Rev. Stephen Reginald Hammond. At left, as he appeared while holding his second pastorate, in Brandon, Canada. He was then 40. At right, as he appears today as rector of Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood.

ST. PETER CHANEL SEMINARY is located on an eight and a half acre tract on Grand Avenue in San Rafael's beautiful Dominican District. There Society of Mary priests and lay brothers train young men for the Marist priesthood, and teach high school and junior college courses. At present 57 students are being taught by eight priest professors aided by five lay brothers. The 1961 graduation exercises will be held the evening of June 6. See pages M8 and M9 for additional Independent-Journal photos of the seminary.

Preparing Youth For Priesthood

That's The Purpose Of The Marist Fathers' St. Peter Chanel Seminary In San Rafael

One of Marin County's newer institutions of learning, St. Peter Chanel Seminary, attracts students from 11 western states, all with one objective in life:

To become priests in the Society of Marin, a worldwide Roman Catholic congregation of religious.

The Marist Fathers operate St. Peter Chanel Seminary as a training school for future Society of Mary fathers and brothers on the eight and a half acre tract on Grand Avenue in San Rafael's Dominican District that was formerly the Tamalpais School for Boys.

STUDENTS pursue a specialized high school and junior college course of studies to prepare them for entering the society's novitiate which is located in Rhinebeck, N. Y. Major seminary studies for these aspirants to the Society of Mary fatherhood and brotherhood are made at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. And after ordination the graduates of the local seminary will return to the West for their priestly ministries.

The course of studies followed by St. Peter Chanel students is classified as "general academic." Since the seminary is accredited by Catholic University from which most of its professors hold their degrees, work done here is accepted at that institution for the Bachelor of Arts degree after an additional two years of school in Washington.

Requirements for the degree are the same as those found in all colleges. Thus the studies at St. Peter Chanel follow the general pattern—with some accent on English and Latin.

Within the last two years the seminary has initiated a new approach to instruction in the ancient language of Latin. Students now learn their Latin through a "structural approach" with the aid of a language laboratory. The course was developed by one of the seminary professors and is believed there to be unique in its field.

The work of the professor resulted in the establishment of the laboratory, ordinarily an expensive undertaking, with a minimum expenditure of money.

Started in September of 1955 with 17 students and three professors, the school now has 57 students and eight priest professors, the latter assisted by five lay brothers.

Ten graduates are currently pursuing higher studies at Catholic University, and seven graduates are in their novitiate year in New York.

Foreseeing a greater enrollment in the very near future, the Marist Fathers will begin work on an addition to the seminary next month. A new chapel, library, dining rooms, and kitchen area will be built, and rooms currently used for these needs will be enlarged and converted into classroom space which is definitely going to be needed.

The school year followed by the seminary is the same as that required by law. Students leave for a three months vacation in June, but the activity of the seminary does not cease. With the departure of the students and the cessation of the regular scholastic activities, the seminary becomes a retreat house for laymen, and each weekend men from the Bay Area gather for three days of spiritual conferences and prayer under the direction of one of the Marist Fathers.

THE MARIST Fathers who conduct St. Peter Chanel Seminary are part of the newly formed Vice-Province of San Francisco which covers the 11 western states. Besides those at the seminary, Marist Fathers staff two parishes in San Francisco, one in Nampa, Idaho, and four in Hawaii. The motherhouse of the society is situated at Monte Verde in Rome, Italy, and there are provinces of the Marist Fathers in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Italy, Ireland, England, Spain, Holland, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, and South America. Two other provinces—Washington and Boston—serve the U. S. and Canada.

Foreign missions of the society are located in the eight Vicariates Apostolic of the South Sea Islands, Japan, Africa, and Peru.

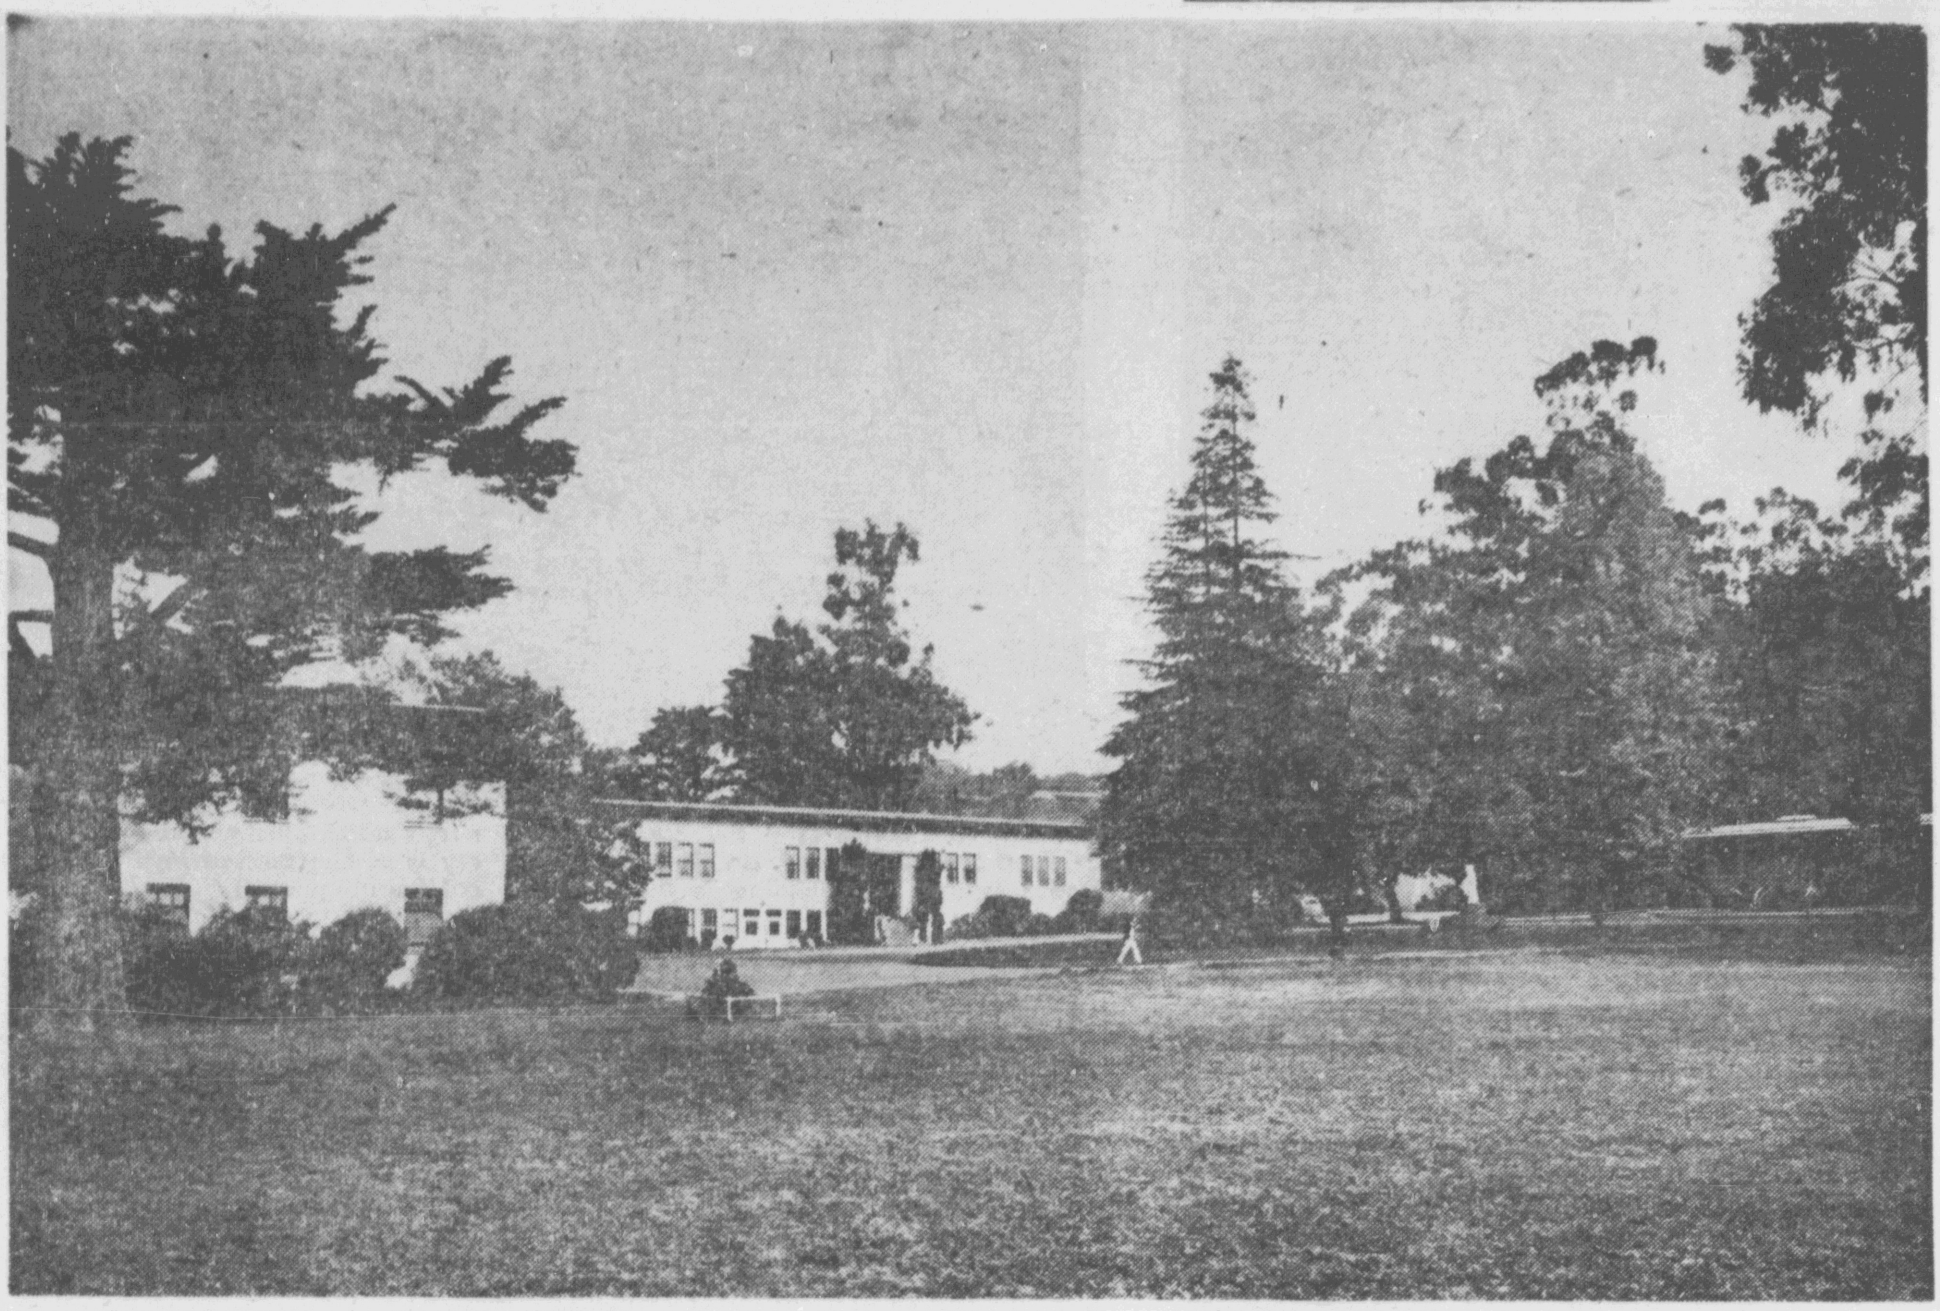

Students who train at St. Peter Chanel Seminary may be assigned to work as parish priests, teachers in high schools or seminaries, home missionaries, or foreign missionaries.

Manual labor is an integral part of the training of the future Marists. This is accomplished under the direction of the lay brothers and priests. As a result, all the work of maintenance of the seminary grounds and buildings is done by the religious and their students. The object of this phase of the training is to prepare the boys for missionary activities either at home or in the foreign fields.

PRIESTS AND lay brothers, with the help of students, do the repair work around the seminary. Here in the workshop Brother Carl (S.M.) does some welding to fix a broken chair.

STUDENTS AT St. Peter Chanel enjoy vigorous physical education and athletic activities such as this intramural baseball game. The batter is Rene Iturbi, the catcher Phil Barca and the umpire George Morales.

A LOYAL COMPANION and great favorite of the students is the German shepherd Fritz, the seminary pet for five years. Enjoying a romp with him here are Pat McShane, left, and Robert Huckell. The statue is of Our Blessed Mother.

A well-planned and supervised athletic program is carried on at St. Peter Chanel Seminary with a class in physical education each day and intramural competitions in baseball, basketball, football, soccer, tennis and swimming. Almost every Sunday afternoon the varsity team meets opponents from various parochial and Catholic Youth Organization units in one or the other of these sports.

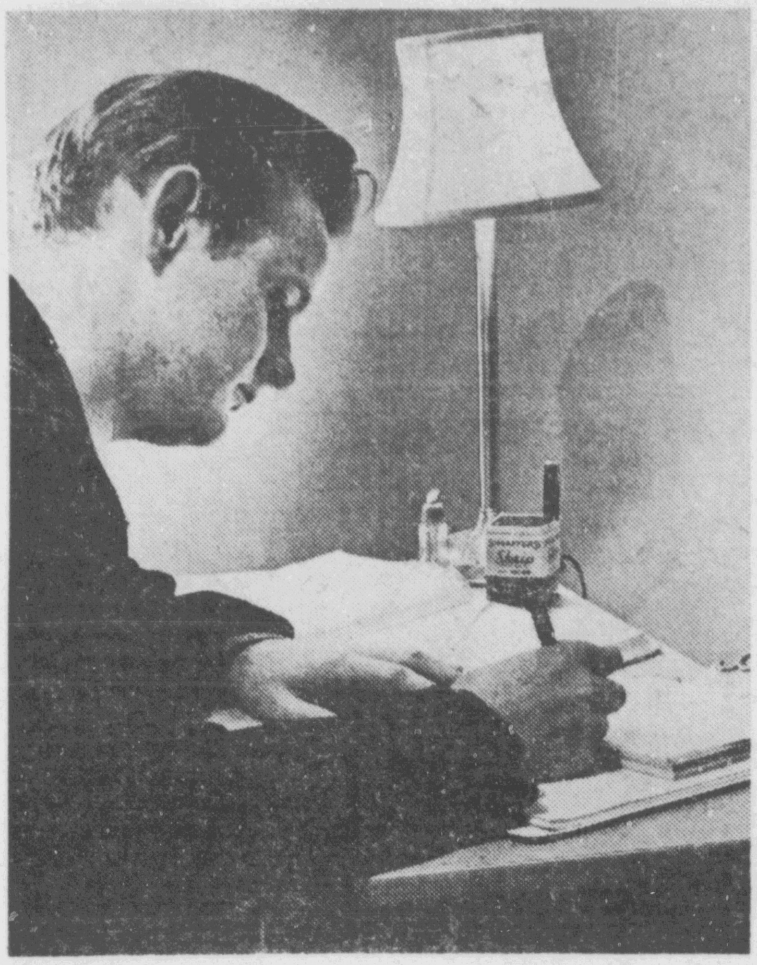

Music and the dramatic arts are taken care of through work in the seminary band and chorale and the various dramatic presentations staged by the seminarians during the school year. Parents and friends of the seminary are often invited to this entertainment.

The seminarians put out a school magazine called Maristella which is distributed among themselves and their families as well as among the various houses of the Marist Fathers as a means of communication between the seminary and those interested in its work.

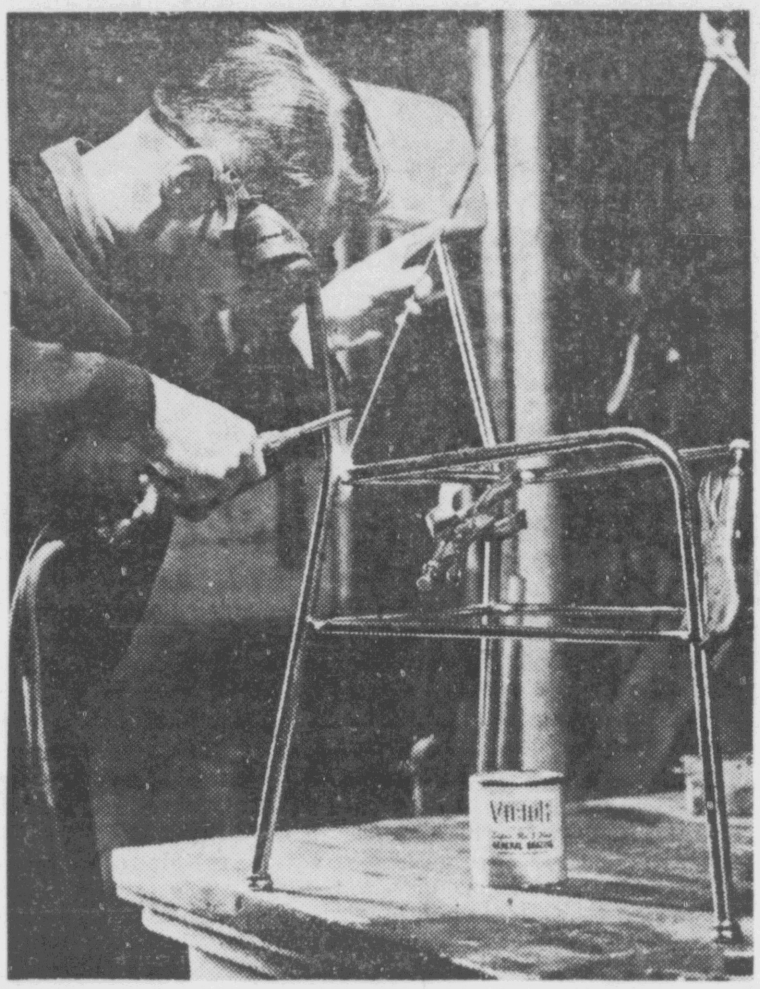

COMPLETELY self-supporting, the seminary finances its activities through a donation for board and room from the parents of those seminarians who are able to make an offering of this kind, through gifts of friends and through the works of the Marist Fathers.

No student is ever refused admission to St. Peter Chanel Seminary because he cannot pay for his board and room provided he has a desire to train for the priesthood and is recommended for such study by his pastor and the principal of his former school.

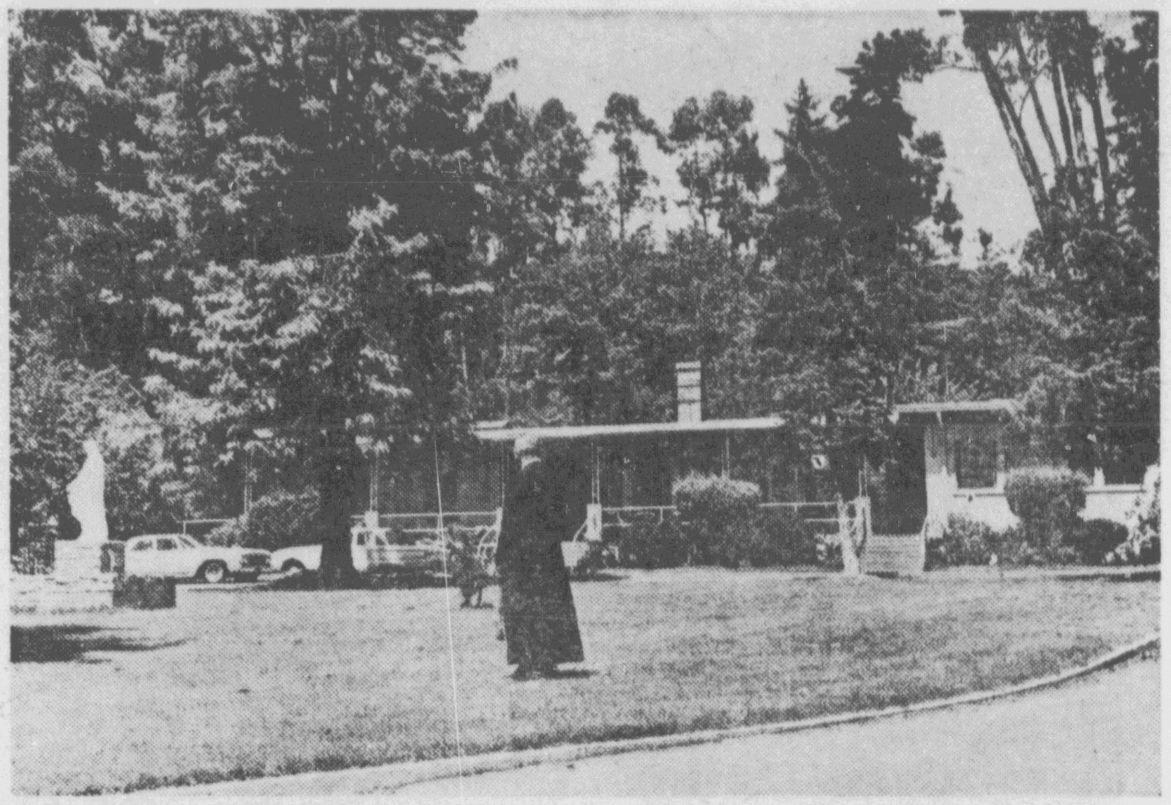

The Marist Fathers point out that seminary doors are always open to the public, with a warm welcome being accorded all Marinites who might want to learn more about one of their growing educational institutions and the religious order which stands behind it.

Teen-Age Girls Work Hard For Aquacade, Enjoy Themselves

Year After Year They Retu[rn]
For Traditional Marin Event

Enthusiasm is the prevailing attitude at the Ann Curtis Swim School in Terra Linda where girls are currently rehearsing their numbers for the "Ballet Aquacade," to be staged there next weekend, Saturday and Sunday.

It will mark the 16th year for the swim-dance show, which has become a Marin tradition.

Many of the dancers and swimmers have been appearing in the aquacade now for a number of years. Yet these girls, though in their teens, an age often referred to as difficult and rebellious, show a refreshingly cooperative and patient attitude as they go through the demanding routines in rehearsals.

The very fact that so many of them have returned year after year is in itself indicative of their keen enthusiasm for the event.

PLEASANT, well-mannered Shirley Bruemmer, appearing in her ninth aquacade, is 16, a sophomore at Marin Catholic High School. "I love it," she says. "It's fun to meet the girls and to work with them again. And it's especially interesting to see the little ones learn how it's done."

Red-haired, freckled, and poised, Pat Vest, also 16 and a junior at Dominican High School, has been in "Ballet Aquacade" for 11 years. She spent some time with the San Francisco Ballet Company, appearing in the "Nutcracker Ballet" in San Francisco and Los Angeles for two seasons.

"Dancing is an expression of happiness and joy—a good outlet, and thrilling to do. It brings pleasure to a lot of people—a big reason why we like it so well," she says.

Another Nutcracker participant (one year) is Robin Collins, an Aquacade performer for 10 years. Fifteen, a freshman at Dominican High School, she "loves to dance, likes the excitement, and appreciates the great experience of being in small shows." She finds it fascinating, too, to watch the younger girls.

SHARING this spirit are three first-timers: Swimmers Pat Gilbert, Claire Badaracco, and Shelly Anton. Pat, 14, an eighth grader at Kentfield Elementary School, finds it challenging and stimulating to "do something different, and it's a real thrill to create a synchronized number: doing the right thing at the right time."

Thirteen-year-old Claire, an eighth grader at St. Anselm's, enjoys swimming (along with tennis and piano) and particularly appreciates making her new aquacade acquaintances.

"The rehearsals are fun," reports Shelley Anton, 13, another eighth-grader (Adeline Kent School) "especially the coordinating with other swimmers." She's been swimming since she was 5 and was excited when chosen after tryouts in March.

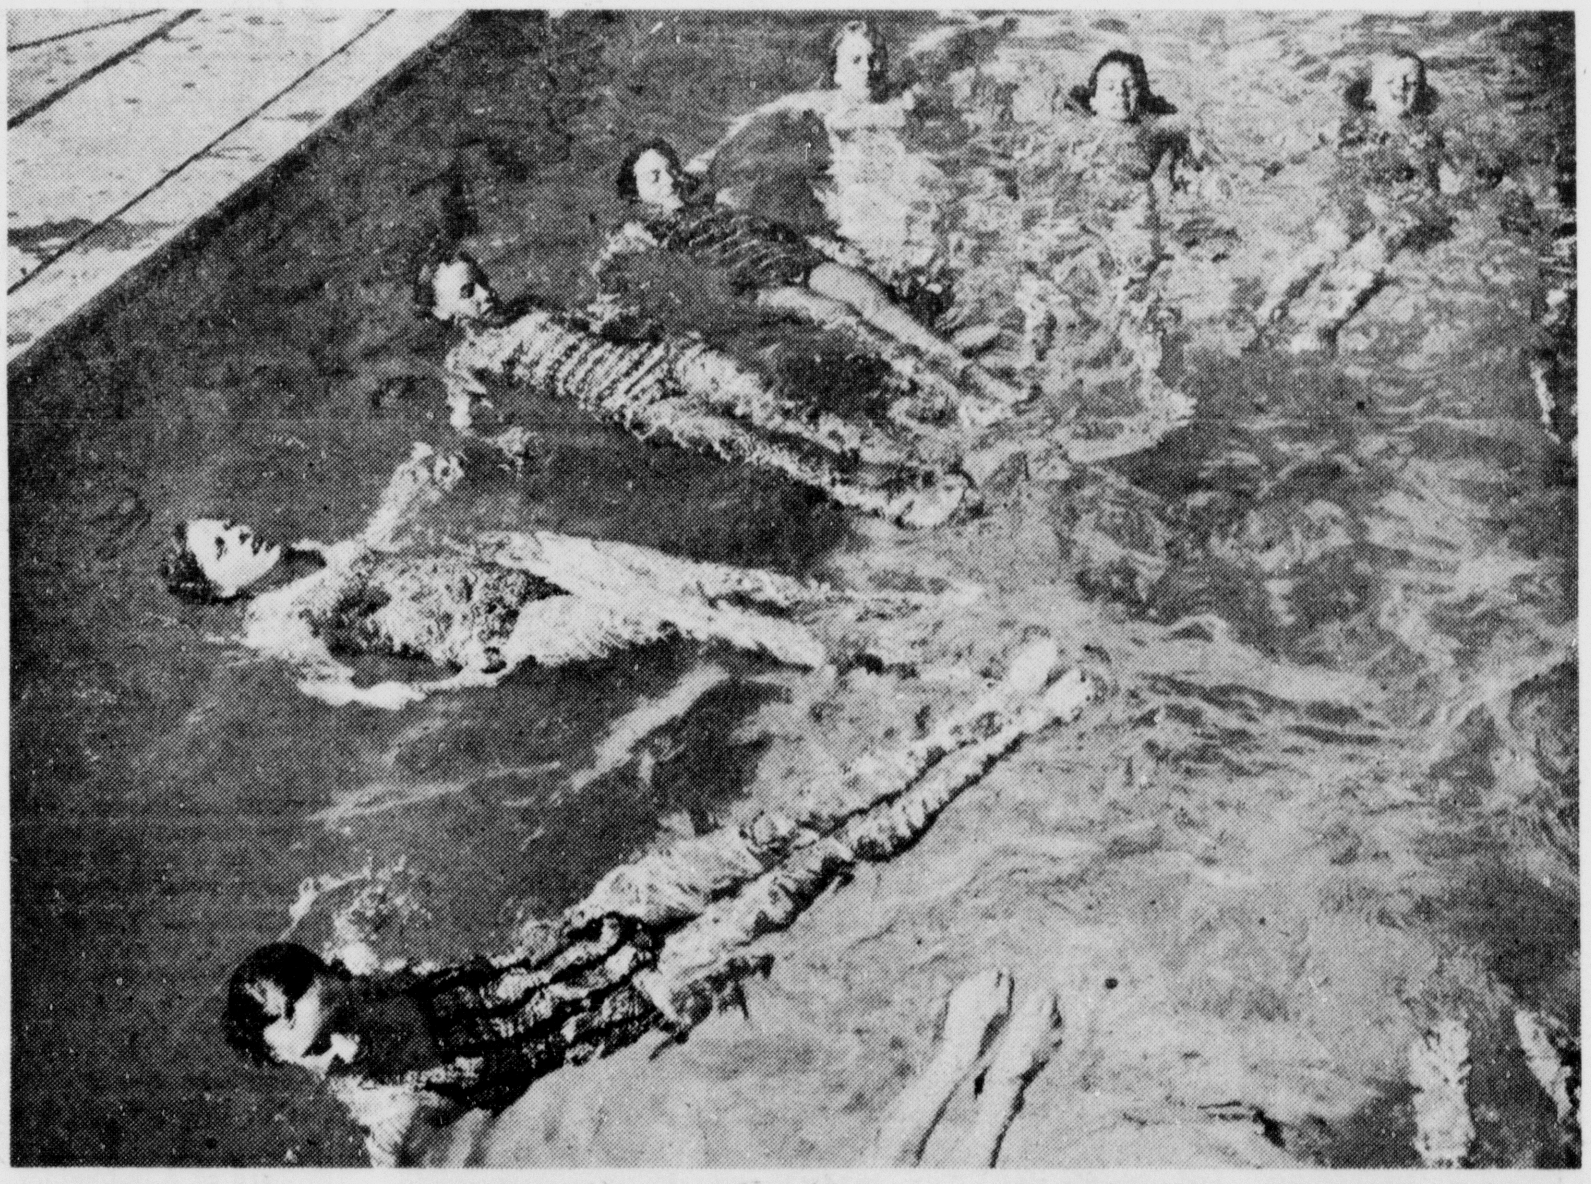

Adding a light-hearted touch to her instructions at a recent rehearsal, swimming coach Judy (Mrs. Paul) Llewelyn was heard to say, "Don't sputter, don't spit out any water, and if you forget what you're doing, forget it gracefully!" An alumnae of six aquacades, she was a competition swimmer for Beth Kaufmann and Charlie Sava.

The direction of Mrs. Ralston W. Hodgson and her large team of swimming coaches turn all this enthusiasm into a polished presentation to which more than 400 girls contribute.. And what better ingredient for success than sheer pleasure in what one's doing?

"Ballet Aquacade" benefits Marin County Junior Theater, and also provides a gift for the pediatric ward of Marin General Hospital.

PRACTICING BESIDE the pool on a routine for next weekend's "Ballet Aquacade" are Ann Rowland, Shirley Bruemmer and Pat Vest, while Kathy Olson and Robin Collins watch from the ladder. Robin, Shirley and Pat have been appearing in the aquacade for 10 years, but retain their original enthusiasm for the swim-dance event. (Photo by Michael Bry)

SHARING this spirit are three first-timers: Swimmers Pat Gilbert, Claire Badaracco, and Shelly Anton. Pat, 14, an eighth grader at Kentfield Elementary School, finds it challenging and stimulating to "do something different, and it's a real thrill to create a synchronized number: doing the right thing at the right time."

Thirteen-year-old Claire, an eighth grader at St. Anselm's, enjoys swimming (along with tennis and piano) and particularly appreciates making her new aquacade acquaintances.

"The rehearsals are fun," reports Shelley Anton, 13, another eighth-grader (Adeline Kent School) "especially the coordinating with other swimmers." She's been swimming since she was 5 and was excited when chosen after tryouts in March.

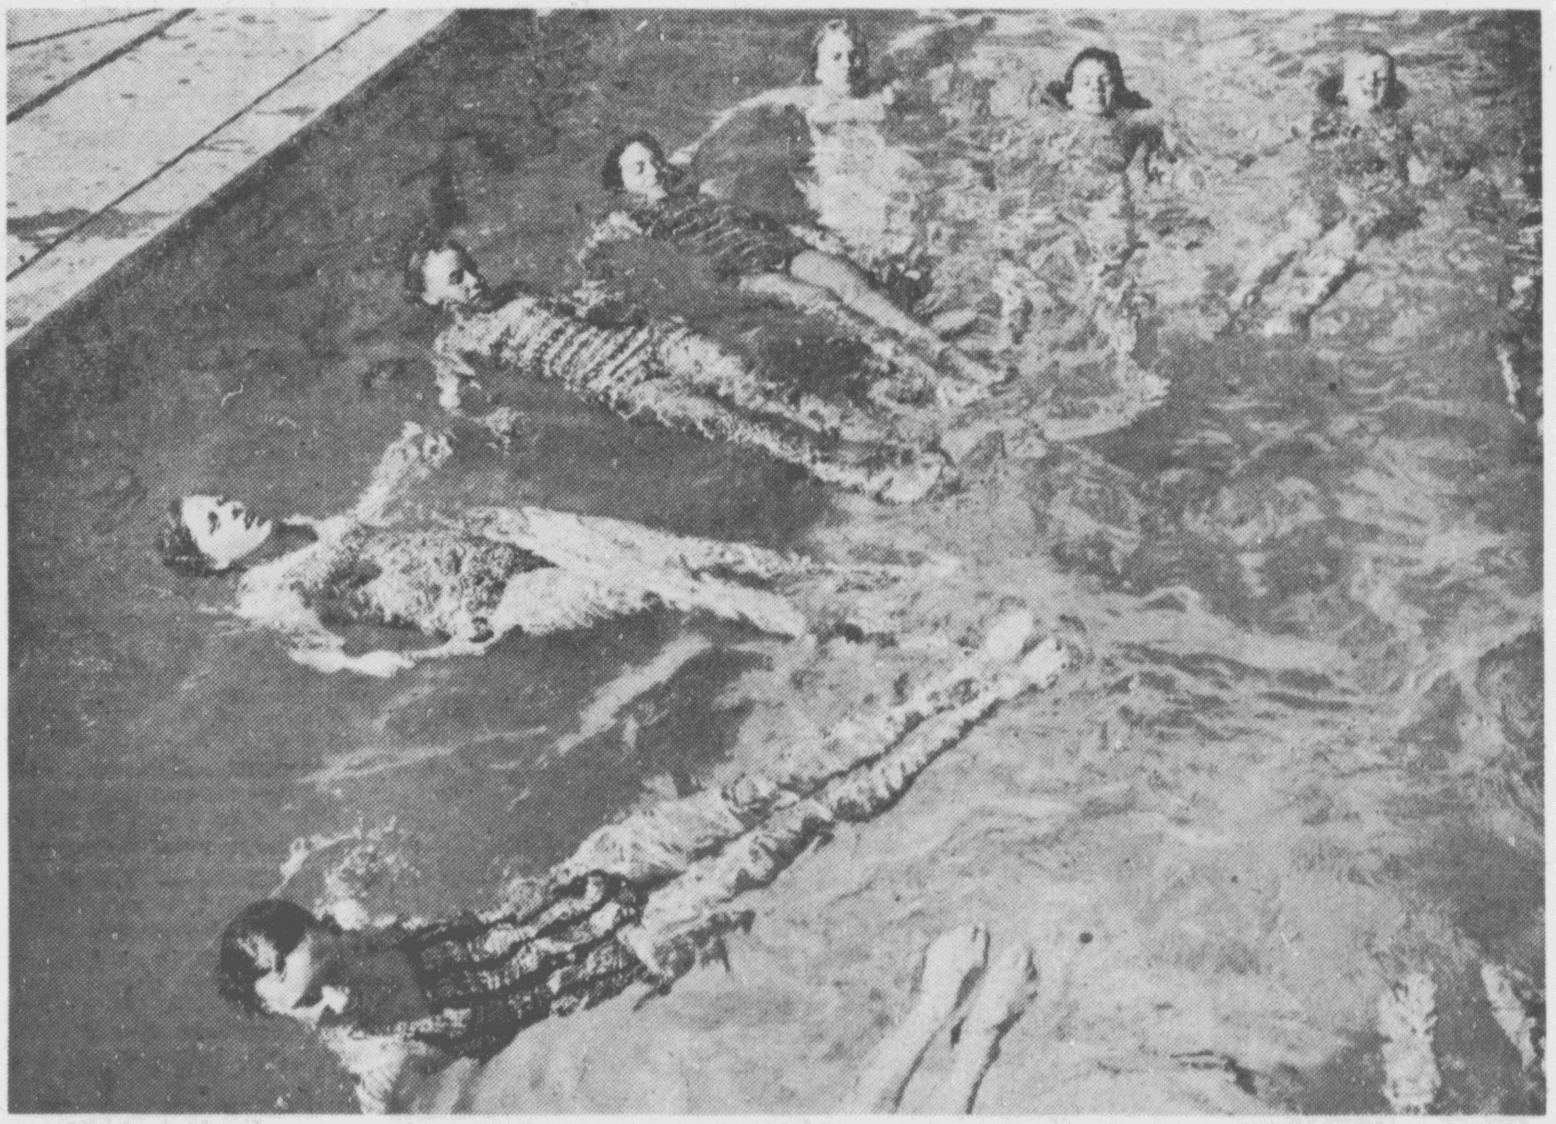

Adding a light-hearted touch to her instructions at a recent rehearsal, swimming coach Judy (Mrs. Paul) Llewelyn was heard to say, "Don't sputter, don't spit out any water, and if you forget what you're doing, forget it gracefully!" An alumnae of six aquacades, she was a competition swimmer for Beth Kaufmann and Charlie Sava.

The direction of Mrs. Ralston W. Hodgson and her large team of swimming coaches turn all this enthusiasm into a polished presentation to which more than 400 girls contribute.. And what better ingredient for success than sheer pleasure in what one's doing?

"Ballet Aquacade" benefits Marin County Junior Theater, and also provides a gift for the pediatric ward of Marin General Hospital.

A Frosh At Work In Capitol

New Assemblyman Learns His Way In Sacramento

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Life of a freshman assemblyman changes in his first session of the legislature from confusion to consternation.

That's what Marin and Sonoma counties' new assemblyman, William T. Bagley of San Rafael, has discovered.

It has taken him just about four months to acclimate himself to the ways of Sacramento. Only now is he getting straightened away to where "things are happening on a familiar schedule."

BUT NOW THE whole tempo of the Capitol is changing. With less than a month to go to the end of the session—they must adjourn at midnight June 16—the rush has started; a log jam of legislation is pending.

The process of passing a new law starts with either a senator or an assemblyman. Either one can ask the legislative counsel to draw up a proposed law in bill form. This he introduces "across the desk" in the Assembly or the Senate.

The bill is then "given first reading," that is the title is read and no one can understand at all what the bill is or proposes to do. The Assembly speaker (or the Senate Rules Committee) assigns the bill to a committee.

There is a lapse of 30 days while the bill is printed in the state printing plant. This usually takes only overnight, but the rest of the time is allotted so that the legislators, the lobbyists, the press and the public can get copies and study what the bill proposes to do.

Then it gets its first hearing in committee. There are 28 committees in the Assembly and 22 in the Senate. Bagley serves on four—government organization, judiciary, livestock and dairies, and social welfare.

IT IS IN committee that a bill is actually heard, arguments presented by proponents and opponents, either lobbyists or interested taxpayers. Here it is amended, altered, tampered with or emasculated.

After a committee finally gives a bill a "do pass" recommendation, it goes back to the floor of the originating house for a "second reading" and then lays over at least one day before it can come up for final consideration. Near the end of a session, it may lay over several days because of the number of measures considered, about 5,000 this session.

Then on the floor of the house the bill is debated, usually only briefly. If it is passed, it goes to the other house and goes through the same routine again. Then, after differences in the Senate and Assembly versions are adjusted to the agreement of all, it finally goes to the governor for signature. He may sign it or veto it. If he vetoes it, a two-thirds majority of both houses are needed to override his veto.

It becomes a law 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature unless it is declared to be an emergency measure and effective immediately.

But, as Bagley has discovered, much of the activity in passing a bill goes on behind the scenes. Legislators importune each other to support each other's bills. They will agree to vote for your bill if you vote for theirs. Sometimes the powerful committees or powerful individuals, like the speaker, can bottle a bill up in committee permanently and it never gets out to the floor.

Bagley has discovered that a freshman assemblyman isn't very important—yet. But his vote is just as strong as the other 79 assemblymen. And the 40 senators have only one vote each, too.

So the San Rafael Republican has found that the republican process of compromise is what makes laws.

And he has found it is good.

BOSS OF THE ASSEMBLY is Speaker Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto). Freshman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) confers with him at the podium where Brown controls everything from who is going to speak to the voting machines operation. (Independent-Journal photos by Robert Hax).

WORKING WITH YOUR senator is a vital part of the job of a freshman assemblyman. Bagley and Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy confer in McCarthy's office before a huge picture of the Golden Gate Bridge.

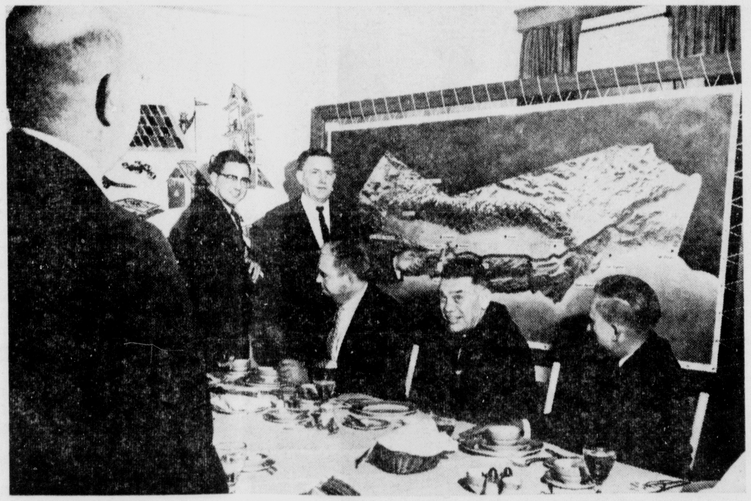

MOST OF THE WORK of the legislative process is done in committee. Bagley, George A. Willson (D-Huntington Park) and the secretary to the Assembly Government Organization Committee listen to a witness explain his views for the bill he is supporting.

"IT'S RIGHT HERE somewhere," declared Assemblyman Bagley to a constituent as he rifled through the papers on his well covered desk.

A NEW LAW starts this way, handed across the Assembly "desk" to a clerk. It must be in prescribed form, prepared by the legislative counsel.

In the center of the three seated is Sen. Leland M. Backstrand (R-Riverside).

Being A State Legislator Isn't All Smiles

THE JOB OF serving as the people's representative and lawmaker can be a tiring and troubling one, as these candid photographs taken by Independent-Journal staff photographer Robert Hax of Marin's Assemblyman Willian Bagley at work at the Capitol show. The photographer has caught a variety of expressions on Bagley's face, but all of them mirroring the seriousness of his responsibilities and duties. The politician, when meeting his constituents or when knowingly facing the camera, almost invariably wears a smile. But under the pressure of work the smile soon fades.

NEILL WHITMAN will be making his fourth appearance in a Sausalito Little Theater summer melodrama when he plays the role of the hero in "Foiled: Or, A Struggle For Life and Liberty," a Civil War play that will open in the Sausalito playhouse this coming Friday. (Photo by Herman Arrow)

It's Melodrama Time Again On Sausalito's Bridgeway

If you happen to walk by the Sausalito Little Theater on Bridgeway these nights and put your ear to the keyhole, chances are you'll hear eloquent voices rich with pathos, now and then accompanied by an off-key piano. These are sounds that tell you unmistakably that summer and melodrama time are near.

Next Friday night, and each Friday and Saturday night from then until Sept. 2, the Sausalito Little Theater will present its fifth annual summer melodrama.

The play to be presented this year is "Foiled: or, A Struggle for Life and Liberty." It is an authentic drama of the Civil War commemorating the forming of the Grand Army of the Republic. Written by O. W. Cornish, and first produced in 1871, the play was lately rescued from obscurity by Neill Whitman, who discovered it in the Sausalito Salvage Shop.

Bob Hagopian, staff director at KQED and former Marin resident, is directing this year's melodrama. Elaine Mitchell is production manager, and business manager is Joe Bologna. Roll-down scenery has been designed and painted by Diana Brewer. Piano accompaniment throughout the play will be provided by Leonard Jared—his fifth year in this role.

The cast for this summer's melodrama is large. Mrs. Evans is played by Phyllis Stuart. Roberta Taylor plays the heroine, Charlotte. Marian Eaton plays Becky. Neill Whitman makes his fourth appearance in summer melodrama in the role of the hero, Ralph. The villain, Hugh Bosworth, is played by Skip Mathews. Lou Mason plays Will Steuben. Also featured are Don Deane, Pat Schaeffer, Bob Hall, Ed Fisher, and Roy Knechtle.

The popular oleos are back, directed by Leonard Jared and Dick Reutlinger. Nan Fowler and Val Beeker are among the many who will be seen singing, dancing, declaiming, and otherwise performing before the drama begins.

Tickets are available at the box office on performance nights until 8:15. By arrangement, Friday evening performances are available for benefit groups.

A Reporter Probes Deeply Into Gambling's Grip On Country

A TWO-DOLLAR BET MEANS MURDER by Fred J. Cook, Dial Press, 248 pages, $4.50. Reviewed by Don Keown.

Fred J. Cook is one of the great investigating reporters in this country. His hard-hitting, thoroughly-documented exposes in the New York press, in earlier books and in magazines have been masterpieces in their field.

This time he again takes on an old foe, gambling.

Much of the material has appeared before in his prize-winning newspaper stories and in The Nation magazine. But its compilation between book covers seems to give it added authority and urgency.

In short, Cook's story is this: A well coordinated multi-billion-dollar gambling empire is flourishing in our supposedly law-abiding country, enjoying virtual immunity from prosecution because of its practice of doling out bribes in staggering amounts to police and public officials. Nor is the professional gambler the romanticized "gentleman" crook the gullible believe him to be. He's a hoodlum with a record of involvement in other crimes ranging from dope peddling to murder.

As for his victim, the amateur upon whom he feeds, "fool" is the kindliest description Cook can find for him.

These chumps are undeterred, Cook notes, by hard, cold mathematics which show that even in such regulated gambling as the pari-mutuels, or Nevada's casinos, the odds are strongly against them and over the long run they cannot win. As for unsupervised, illegal betting, the gamblers, be they bookies, numbers racketeers or casino owners, see to it that the suckers never get a 50-50 and seldom a 20-80 break.

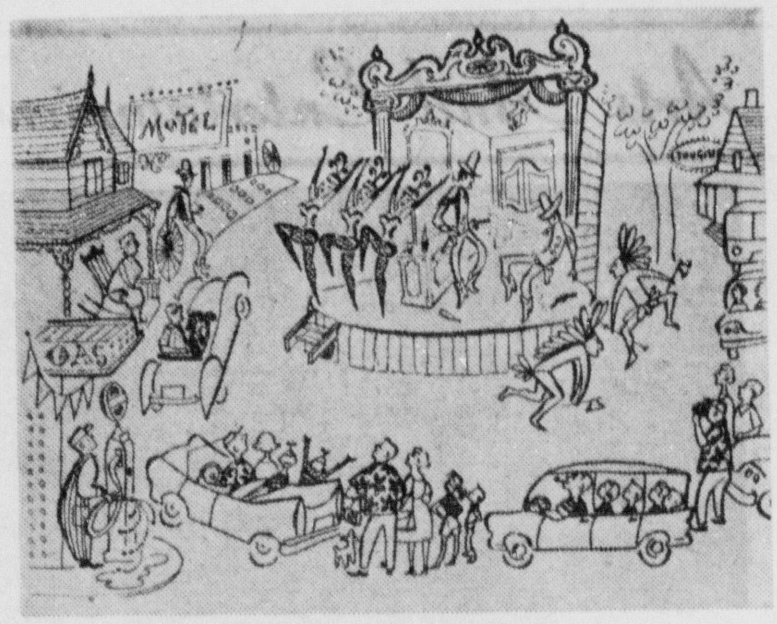

Those two dollar bets, the coins shoved into rigged slot machines help feed an ugly syndicate that has its dirty hands in every kind of illegal filth, Cook declares. And he names names to prove his assertion.

Cook demolishes the argument for legalized gambling as a solution to the bookie problem. Somewhere, he points out, the line has to be drawn as to just how much gambling the law will permit—and the crooks will simply set up store just across that line. He cites the vicinity of race tracks as evidence that even legalized gambling attracts the crooked elements. And he reviews unhappy experiences of several areas which have experimented with legalized gambling.

One of his most interesting chapters deals with Las Vegas and indicates that things are not so pure there as its officials might like for you to believe.

The great dangers of legalized gambling, Cook believes, would be the financial poverty and the demoralized ethical standards that would result from a system in which the government financed itself in part by exploiting the weaknesses of its people.

The real remedy, Cook says, is for the public to muster sufficient common sense to stop patronizing and supporting the gamblers. But this, he admits, human nature being what it is, is a Utopian dream. Another Cook proposal is that the federal government throw its law enforcement resources into the battle against the underworld and its gambling gold mine. And he has other ideas well worth your reading and thoughtful consideration.

THE JACKET DESIGN for Steve Frazee's new book, "More Damn Tourists," is by Mircea Vasiliu. The book pokes some good-natured fun at the attempts of the citizenry of a small Colorado town to attract more tourist trade.

MORE DAMN TOURISTS by Steve Frazee, Macmillan Co., 241 pages, $3.95. Reviewed by Don Keown.

The author has, in the past, been known primarily as a writer of western fiction. Here he shows, however, that he has a real touch for humor and satire.

Anyone who has ever lived in a small town will be unable to resist the antics of the good people of Wonderful, Colo., in their determination to grab their share of the tourist business.

If Frazee seems a bit slow in the opening pages in untracking his humor, be not dismayed. His story soon becomes funny. And from there it proceeds to hilarity.

Along with all the wonderful "characters" of Wonderful there are some also marvelous Ute Indians and some girls from a snooty eastern school. The result is a fine good-natured spoof of small town life and some delightfully entertaining reading. You can bet that you will catch yourself chuckling or even guffawing aloud as you enjoy yourself.

ONLY IN RUSSIA, by Howard Norton, D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc., 236 pages, $4.95. Reviewed by Bryce Anderson.

If you think of the USSR as a land of fear, working madly toward the conquest of the world and space, you should read Howard Norton's "Only in Russia."

Norton spent three and one-half years in Moscow as correspondent for the Baltimore Sun papers. His book is made up mostly of the columns he wrote from the Soviet capital

It is concerned, not with global politics, but with such things as the shortage of apartments in Moscow, the Russian approach to the serve-yourself market, what Ivan can buy with the roubles he's paid, what Tatania complains about in her letters to the editor, and how collectivized farmers (among others) find a way to turn a profit in a communist country.

The sum of Norton's accounts gives one a picture of Russian bureaucracy that exposes its weaknesses while noting its strengths, and of life in the USSR (or at least in Moscow) that shows Ivanovich and Johnson have more than a name in common.

One caution: If all the prices as converted to American dollars and cents seem completely out of reason, it should be remembered that Norton converted pre-1961 roubles at the official exchange rate of four to the dollar, whereas the rate on the world money market was about seven to the dollar and American tourists in Russia received 10 roubles for each of Uncle Sam's capitalist greenbacks. (It should also be remembered, as Norton points out, that Ivan and Anna find many consumer goods that we consider essential not even obtainable—so sometimes the problem is not the cost, but what one can buy at all.)

MUSIC FOR THE PATIO . . . Relaxing in the patio to the strains of your favorite music can be a delightful experience. In many cases a speaker can be hung in the patio area and connected to the existing Hi-Fi or Stereo as a week-end do-it-yourself project.

The items required are one $12.50 to $54.00 speaker with inclosure for a monaural system, or two of the same speakers for a stereo system, enough speaker cable to reach back to the main console, and a switch to turn the outside speaker On and Off. The wall type speaker inclosures can be hung on the outside wall of the house near the patio or barbecue area with the hook bracket supplied with the inclosure.

The Argos Company has recently introduced their new line of wall speaker systems. There are single speaker models for as low as $12.50 and two speaker systems - woofer and tweeter - for as low as $23.95. For those who want a weather-proof speaker that can be left outside all year around, there are the University Type MLC projectors for $35.60 or the Electrovoice Musicaster for $54.00.

If you are contemplating the enjoyment of music for your outdoor areas, patio or pool, please visit us and let our sound specialists show you what can be used. You can do-it-yourself with our guidance, or we are prepared to do a complete installation if required. Treat yourself and your family to a summer of outdoor fun.

IRISH MELODY

At the silver slant of night when little folk danced in a ring,
and the moon was a sombre gong,
I heard my grandmother sing,
And she who was inches small
had a voice that was 40 years long, long as her laughter,
green as her sea,
and she knew that I knew
she was calling to me . . .

NEILL WHITMAN will be making his fourth appearance in a Sausalito Little Theater summer melodrama when he plays the role of the hero in "Foiled: Or, A Struggle For Life and Liberty," a Civil War play that will open in the Sausalito playhouse this coming Friday. (Photo by Herman Arrow)

It's Melodrama Time Again On Sausalito's Bridgeway

If you happen to walk by the Sausalito Little Theater on Bridgeway these nights and put your ear to the keyhole, chances are you'll hear eloquent voices rich with pathos, now and then accompanied by an off-key piano. These are sounds that tell you unmistakably that summer and melodrama time are near.

Next Friday night, and each Friday and Saturday night from then until Sept. 2, the Sausalito Little Theater will present its fifth annual summer melodrama.

The play to be presented this year is "Foiled: or, A Struggle for Life and Liberty." It is an authentic drama of the Civil War commemorating the forming of the Grand Army of the Republic. Written by O. W. Cornish, and first produced in 1871, the play was lately rescued from obscurity by Neill Whitman, who discovered it in the Sausalito Salvage Shop.

Bob Hagopian, staff director at KQED and former Marin resident, is directing this year's melodrama. Elaine Mitchell is production manager, and business manager is Joe Bologna. Roll-down scenery has been designed and painted by Diana Brewer. Piano accompaniment throughout the play will be provided by Leonard Jared—his fifth year in this role.

The cast for this summer's melodrama is large. Mrs. Evans is played by Phyllis Stuart. Roberta Taylor plays the heroine, Charlotte. Marian Eaton plays Becky. Neill Whitman makes his fourth appearance in summer melodrama in the role of the hero, Ralph. The villain, Hugh Bosworth, is played by Skip Mathews. Lou Mason plays Will Steuben. Also featured are Don Deane, Pat Schaeffer, Bob Hall, Ed Fisher, and Roy Knechtle.

The popular oleos are back, directed by Leonard Jared and Dick Reutlinger. Nan Fowler and Val Beeker are among the many who will be seen singing, dancing, declaiming, and otherwise performing before the drama begins.

Tickets are available at the box office on performance nights until 8:15. By arrangement, Friday evening performances are available for benefit groups.

Mom Takes Up Paint Brush To Give Home A New Look

The ladies have risen to the paint bucket — house paint, that is.

It is not even a startling scene these days to see the women folk plastering walls or even on a ladder painting the exterior of the house.

Women have become more home fashion conscious and they want to change their color schemes when the mood strikes. Equipped with a color wheel from a paint shop or art store, they can choose a hue that may give a room that desirable new look.

IF A ROOM is very large, the aim is to make it cozy and more intimate. Darker colors will do that as they absorb light and make the area seem smaller. Light colors reflect more light and make areas seem larger. They are best for small rooms.

Painting woodwork the same color as the walls can add spaciousness to a room. If the room is large it will look more decorative with woodwork painted a different color from walls.

A low ceiling may be made to look higher if it is painted a pale color or white. A color deeper than the walls may make a ceiling seem lower.

The selection of paint brushes and rollers depends on the job to be done. A window isn't painted with a flat wall brush, any more than the wall could be painted with a brush meant for trim.

A disposable mixing bucket and gloves are good aids to the project. Ditto a paint paddle, essential for mixing paint. Masking tape protects hardware and window panes, so there isn't a colossal clean-up project later. Turpentine and paint thinner are important to have at hand. Drop-cloths and newspapers may be spread around for the protection of all areas adjacent to the painting surface.

IF ONE DRESSES comfortably for the painting spree, the job may be done with fewer retrictions. Flat soles should be worn for climbing a ladder. Hair must be covered, and a woman who doesn't like wearing gloves because they impede her painting progress and protect her hands with one of the specially prepared creams or lotions.

Flat paint, either alkyd or latex, is best for walls or ceilings, as it reflects light evenly without glare. Enamel is best for woodwork, trim and furniture. These areas are handled often, so need a durable paint like enamel, a good choice, too, for kitchen and bathroom walls.

Most women find it better to paint when children are at school and animals are outdoors. Don't invite the children in on the act to keep them happy, as one mother did.

SHE THOUGHT it would solve her problem to keep her 6-year-old busy painting a lower wall while she on the ladder painted the upper section, believing she could smooth out the lower section as she went along.

She had spread papers over the floor, and was on a step stool painting when she looked down at her helper. Papers had been scuffed away from the wall, and paint had dribbled on the floor.

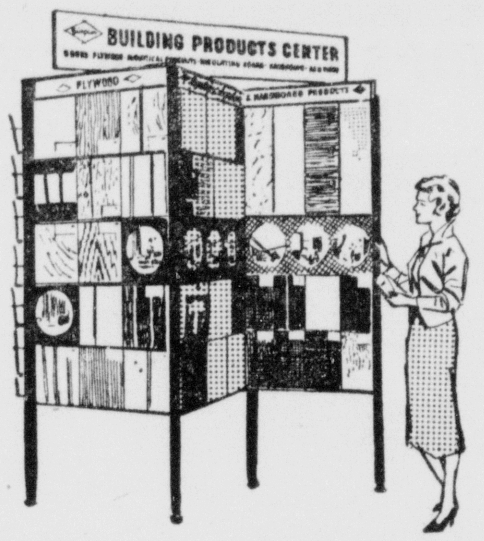

She shrieked and so startled her young fry that he stood up, backing into the wall, coating clothes, hair and shoes with paint. Then he ran from the spot carrying dribbled paint on his shoes over the rug.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Reporter Probes Deeply Into Gambling's Grip On Country

A TWO-DOLLAR BET MEANS MURDER by Fred J. Cook, Dial Press, 248 pages, $4.50. Reviewed by Don Keown.

Fred J. Cook is one of the great investigating reporters in this country. His hard-hitting, thoroughly-documented exposes in the New York press, in earlier books and in magazines have been masterpieces in their field.

This time he again takes on an old foe, gambling.

Much of the material has appeared before in his prize-winning newspaper stories and in The Nation magazine. But its compilation between book covers seems to give it added authority and urgency.

In short, Cook's story is this: A well coordinated multi-billion-dollar gambling empire is flourishing in our supposedly law-abiding country, enjoying virtual immunity from prosecution because of its practice of doling out bribes in staggering amounts to police and public officials. Nor is the professional gambler the romanticized "gentleman" crook the gullible believe him to be. He's a hoodlum with a record of involvement in other crimes ranging from dope peddling to murder.

As for his victim, the amateur upon whom he feeds, "fool" is the kindliest description Cook can find for him.

These chumps are undeterred, Cook notes, by hard, cold mathematics which show that even in such regulated gambling as the pari-mutuels, or Nevada's casinos, the odds are strongly against them and over the long run they cannot win. As for unsupervised, illegal betting, the gamblers, be they bookies, numbers racketeers or casino owners, see to it that the suckers never get a 50-50 and seldom a 20-80 break.

Those two dollar bets, the coins shoved into rigged slot machines help feed an ugly syndicate that has its dirty hands in every kind of illegal filth, Cook declares. And he names names to prove his assertion.

Cook demolishes the argument for legalized gambling as a solution to the bookie problem. Somewhere, he points out, the line has to be drawn as to just how much gambling the law will permit—and the crooks will simply set up store just across that line. He cites the vicinity of race tracks as evidence that even legalized gambling attracts the crooked elements. And he reviews unhappy experiences of several areas which have experimented with legalized gambling.

One of his most interesting chapters deals with Las Vegas and indicates that things are not so pure there as its officials might like for you to believe.

The great dangers of legalized gambling, Cook believes, would be the financial poverty and the demoralized ethical standards that would result from a system in which the government financed itself in part by exploiting the weaknesses of its people.

The real remedy, Cook says, is for the public to muster sufficient common sense to stop patronizing and supporting the gamblers. But this, he admits, human nature being what it is, is a Utopian dream. Another Cook proposal is that the federal government throw its law enforcement resources into the battle against the underworld and its gambling gold mine. And he has other ideas well worth your reading and thoughtful consideration.

THE JACKET DESIGN for Steve Frazee's new book, "More Damn Tourists," is by Mircea Vasiliu. The book pokes some good-natured fun at the attempts of the citizenry of a small Colorado town to attract more tourist trade.

MORE DAMN TOURISTS by Steve Frazee, Macmillan Co., 241 pages, $3.95. Reviewed by Don Keown.

The author has, in the past, been known primarily as a writer of western fiction. Here he shows, however, that he has a real touch for humor and satire.

Anyone who has ever lived in a small town will be unable to resist the antics of the good people of Wonderful, Colo., in their determination to grab their share of the tourist business.

If Frazee seems a bit slow in the opening pages in untracking his humor, be not dismayed. His story soon becomes funny. And from there it proceeds to hilarity.

Along with all the wonderful "characters" of Wonderful there are some also marvelous Ute Indians and some girls from a snooty eastern school. The result is a fine good-natured spoof of small town life and some delightfully entertaining reading. You can bet that you will catch yourself chuckling or even guffawing aloud as you enjoy yourself.

ONLY IN RUSSIA, by Howard Norton, D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc., 236 pages, $4.95. Reviewed by Bryce Anderson.

If you think of the USSR as a land of fear, working madly toward the conquest of the world and space, you should read Howard Norton's "Only in Russia."

Norton spent three and one-half years in Moscow as correspondent for the Baltimore Sun papers. His book is made up mostly of the columns he wrote from the Soviet capital

It is concerned, not with global politics, but with such things as the shortage of apartments in Moscow, the Russian approach to the serve-yourself market, what Ivan can buy with the roubles he's paid, what Tatania complains about in her letters to the editor, and how collectivized farmers (among others) find a way to turn a profit in a communist country.

The sum of Norton's accounts gives one a picture of Russian bureaucracy that exposes its weaknesses while noting its strengths, and of life in the USSR (or at least in Moscow) that shows Ivanovich and Johnson have more than a name in common.

One caution: If all the prices as converted to American dollars and cents seem completely out of reason, it should be remembered that Norton converted pre-1961 roubles at the official exchange rate of four to the dollar, whereas the rate on the world money market was about seven to the dollar and American tourists in Russia received 10 roubles for each of Uncle Sam's capitalist greenbacks. (It should also be remembered, as Norton points out, that Ivan and Anna find many consumer goods that we consider essential not even obtainable—so sometimes the problem is not the cost, but what one can buy at all.)

THE SHORES OF LIGHT by Edmund Wilson, Vintage Books, 793 pages, $1.95. Reviewed by Bill Hendricks.

This is a recent paperback addition to the growing list of Vintage Books, a division of Random House.

It is a bright, biting collection of essays, newspaper columns, and critiques of literature, the stage and art forms of the '20s and '30s by a real artist in the field.

Old Favorite Still Tops In Popularity

THE REAL MOTHER GOOSE, illustrated by Blanche Fisher Wright, Rand, McNally edition of 1960, 128 pages, $2.95. Reviewed by Claudia Royal.

For more than half a century, this book has been a favorite with children and parents alike. There's a picture for every page, two for many pages, and more than 30 full-page pictures. Colors are bright and cheerful, the action lively.

Every young child should have a copy of Mother Goose. The lilting, rhythmic phrases appeal to him. The singingness and alliteration charm even the youngest child. Blanche Fisher Wright provides a good introduction to this famous old lady.

STEREO HI-FI

By C. J. Catania
Audio Engineer

MUSIC FOR THE PATIO . . . Relaxing in the patio to the strains of your favorite music can be a delightful experience. In many cases a speaker can be hung in the patio area and connected to the existing Hi-Fi or Stereo as a week-end do-it-yourself project.

The items required are one $12.50 to $54.00 speaker with inclosure for a monaural system, or two of the same speakers for a stereo system, enough speaker cable to reach back to the main console, and a switch to turn the outside speaker On and Off. The wall type speaker inclosures can be hung on the outside wall of the house near the patio or barbecue area with the hook bracket supplied with the inclosure.

The Argos Company has recently introduced their new line of wall speaker systems. There are single speaker models for as low as $12.50 and two speaker systems - woofer and tweeter - for as low as $23.95. For those who want a weatherproof speaker that can be left outside all year around, there are the University Type MLC projectors for $35.60 or the Electrovoice Musicaster for $54.00.

If you are contemplating the enjoyment of music for your outdoor areas, patio or pool, please visit us and let our sound specialists show you what can be used. You can do-it-yourself with our guidance, or we are prepared to do a complete installation if required. Treat yourself and your family to a summer of outdoor fun.

Hydrangea Owes Its 'Oomph' To French

There's nothing shy about hydrangeas. Beyond a doubt, they are the boldest, showiest, and heaviest bloomers.

It wasn't always so, however, and some can no doubt remember when they were rangier and less interesting shrubs. Their blooms had size, but lacked the oompth to make them truly spectacular.

We can thank the French for supplying the oomph.

It was in La Bell France several decades ago that these wonderful shrubs started through the hybridizing mill from which new spectacular varieties have been emerging ever since. Today's shrub is generally more compact, a better mixer in the garden and as colorful as any shrub could be.

Planted now, the hydrangea can be counted on for summer-long color in years to come. It should be given partial shade at least. It likes plenty of summer water and a soil that is either naturally rich or made that way by the addition of manure and leaf mold. Blue flowered hydrangeas are the result of acid soils, so consider this when planting.

If you haven't tried hydrangeas in tubs, by all means do. They are ideal replacements for tubbed azaleas during the summer months.

Some gardeners seem inclined to shear hydrangeas back each year like a hedge, the result being a tight mass of foliage which produces more flowers than the bush wants and consequently smaller ones.

Better practice would be to head back the canes to different lengths during each dormant season and remove some entirely to open the shrub up. Blooms will be larger and form ever so much more interestingly.

CHECKLIST FOR MARIN GARDENERS

Here is the Marin gardener's checklist for the coming week:

- Feed azaleas, camellias and rhododendrons if it has been a month or six weeks since their last meal.
- Plant the dwarf dahlias for a quick show of color.
- Shop for container grown roses in bloom. In your garden keep faded rose blooms cut off.
- Water lawns deeply to discourage shallow rooting. Use a soaker on sloping lawns to prevent needless runoff.
- Feed potted and container grown fuchsias and begonias with liquid fish fertilizer.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT William Kapranos' challenge at the S. R. Farley home, 113 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, was to draw guests toward a difficult entrance—around three sides of a garage and up a slope to an almost hidden door. In the stone planters are dwarf bamboo. The upright plant at end of planters is an Egyptian paper plant. Tree is a silk tree. Natural stone steps have been placed in the dichondrea to lead to the entrance. Cagwin and Dorward, landscape contractor, executed the plans.

TELEVISION'S "The Asphalt Jungle" series will present its adaptation of the successful movie of the same title tomorrow night at 9:30 on KGO. Appearing in the Marilyn Monroe role will be Joan Staley. And cast as the "professor," the part played by Sam Jaffe in the movie, will be Milton Selzer.

THIS BEAUTIFUL bamboo (Phyllostachys aurea) grows to a stately 10 to 15 feet in height. Its yellow-green leaves and stalks take on a golden hue from a distance. Allow plenty of space. It is ideal as a screen or individual planting as illustrated. Inset shows you what the plant will look like at your nursery. (California Assn. of Nurserymen photo)

Truman's 1948 election victory, and Andrei Gromyko's first walkout from the United Nations Security Council.

Controversial Prof Will Face Two Of His Critics On KPIX Program

DR. LEO KOCH, the biology prof with the unconventional ideas about sex, will appear on KPIX's "Consider and Decide" show tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Dr. Koch's advocacy of sexual freedom lost him his job at the University of Illinois and earned him much criticism—particularly from members of the clergy.

The professor will face two of his critics on tomorrow's show which was taped earlier while Dr. Koch was in the Bay Area for a series of lectures. Appearing with him will be Prof. Laverne Shafer and Prof. William G. Bellshaw, both faculty members at the San Francisco Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary.

Marinite Jere Witter, as usual, will moderate, with the discussion expected to cover such subjects as modern attitudes toward sex, promiscuity, prostitution and the problems of sex on the college campus of today.

A NEW SERIES entitled "Way of Thinking" which has captured nationwide attention is now being seen in KRON's Sunday, 6:30 p.m., time spot.

The New York Times has described the series as "one of the more provocative programs of the current television season."

Newsweek has said the program ". . . may defy definition, but it can justly be described as a kind of news analysis, historical exploration, commentary, and essay snowballed into one. It is unclassifiable politically. It sits neither left nor right, nor even in the middle."

Its central figure is Dr. Albert Burke, former director of graduate studies in conservation at Yale University and a world traveler who speaks six languages fluently. He researches, writes and then delivers each episode himself. And his approach is reminiscent of the old-fashioned Fourth of July oratory.

Tomorrow he will make some comparisons between the U. S. and Russian approaches to science.

A MOST UNUSUAL experimental film will be shown on the "Lamp Unto My Feet" program tomorrow at 8 a.m. on KPIX. French artist Andre Girard is the man responsible.

Girard, noted for his religious paintings, has introduced a new technique in which he paints, using minute instruments, directly onto 70 millimeter film which is then later re-photographed on 35 millimeter film. He calls it "painting with light." And the result is said to be pictures of greater clarity and luminosity.

Tomorrow's film is entitled "The Sermon on the Mount."

KGO HAS scheduled a tribute to the late Joan Davis for tomorrow morning, running from 10:30 until noon.

The show will re-trace her career including her radio and movie successes, and of course, the highly successful television comedy series, "I Married Joan."

KGO regularly carries the "I Married Joan" series on week day mornings at 8:30 and on Sunday evenings at 6 o'clock.

IT WILL BE professor vs. politician in tonight's "The Nation's Future" debate at 9:30 over KRON.

The question will be: "Should NATO be a Nuclear Power?"

Answering yes will be Prof. Henry A. Kissinger of Harvard University. Opposing him will be Rep. Chet Holifield of California, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

The question was brought to a head when President John F. Kennedy announced that the U. S. plans to commit to the NATO command Polaris-armed submarines.

EARLIER this evening and continuing until 7 o'clock, sports fans will be given another preview of Tuesday's upcoming Indianapolis 500-mile race.

"Wide World of Sports," seen over KGO, will cover the time trials by which the top drivers qualified for the big event.

There will also be interviews of drivers, drivers' wives, and pit crews, plus some inside information on the strategy of the speed demons.

Included, too, will be a look at the first Indianapolis 500-mile race of 50 years ago. And at the tragic crash in which veteran driver Tony Bettenhausen died this year during a practice run.

PROJECT 20'S penetrating look at America between wars, 1945 to 1950, will be repeated Tuesday evening at 10 o'clock over KRON with Bob Hope again providing the commentary. Covered is such political drama as the Alger Hiss-Whitaker Chambers affair (top), Harry S. Truman's 1948 election victory, and Andrei Gromyko's first walkout from the United Nations Security Council.

Controversial Prof Will Face Two Of His Critics On KPIX Program

DR. LEO KOCH, the biology prof with the unconventional ideas about sex, will appear on KPIX's "Consider and Decide" show tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Dr. Koch's advocacy of sexual freedom lost him his job at the University of Illinois and earned him much criticism—particularly from members of the clergy.

The professor will face two of his critics on tomorrow's show which was taped earlier while Dr. Koch was in the Bay Area for a series of lectures. Appearing with him will be Prof. Laverne Shafer and Prof. William G. Bellshaw, both faculty members at the San Francisco Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary.

Marinite Jere Witter, as usual, will moderate, with the discussion expected to cover such subjects as modern attitudes toward sex, promiscuity, prostitution and the problems of sex on the college campus of today.

A NEW SERIES entitled "Way of Thinking" which has captured nationwide attention is now being seen in KRON's Sunday, 6:30 p.m., time spot.

The New York Times has described the series as "one of the more provocative programs of the current television season."

Newsweek has said the program ". . . may defy definition, but it can justly be described as a kind of news analysis, historical exploration, commentary, and essay snowballed into one. It is unclassifiable politically. It sits neither left nor right, nor even in the middle."

Its central figure is Dr. Albert Burke, former director of graduate studies in conservation at Yale University and a world traveler who speaks six languages fluently. He researches, writes and then delivers each episode himself. And his approach is reminiscent of the old-fashioned Fourth of July oratory.

Tomorrow he will make some comparisons between the U. S. and Russian approaches to science.

A MOST UNUSUAL experimental film will be shown on the "Lamp Unto My Feet" program tomorrow at 8 a.m. on KPIX. French artist Andre Girard is the man responsible.

Girard, noted for his religious paintings, has introduced a new technique in which he paints, using minute instruments, directly onto 70 millimeter film which is then later re-photographed on 35 millimeter film. He calls it "painting with light." And the result is said to be pictures of greater clarity and luminosity.

Tomorrow's film is entitled "The Sermon on the Mount."

KGO HAS scheduled a tribute to the late Joan Davis for tomorrow morning, running from 10:30 until noon.

The show will re-trace her career including her radio and movie successes, and of course, the highly successful television comedy series, "I Married Joan."

KGO regularly carries the "I Married Joan" series on week day mornings at 8:30 and on Sunday evenings at 6 o'clock.

IT WILL BE professor vs. politician in tonight's "The Nation's Future" debate at 9:30 over KRON.

The question will be: "Should NATO be a Nuclear Power?"

Answering yes will be Prof. Henry A. Kissinger of Harvard University. Opposing him will be Rep. Chet Holifield of California, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

The question was brought to a head when President John F. Kennedy announced that the U. S. plans to commit to the NATO command Polaris-armed submarines.

EARLIER this evening and continuing until 7 o'clock, sports fans will be given another preview of Tuesday's upcoming Indianapolis 500-mile race.

"Wide World of Sports," seen over KGO, will cover the time trials by which the top drivers qualified for the big event.

There will also be interviews of drivers, drivers' wives, and pit crews, plus some inside information on the strategy of the speed demons.

Included, too, will be a look at the first Indianapolis 500-mile race of 50 years ago. And at the tragic crash in which veteran driver Tony Bettenhausen died this year during a practice run.
